

Girl Who Sued Babe Ruth Admits It Was Frame-Up

NEW YORK, April 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Miss Dolores Dixon, who recently brought suit for $50,000 damages against "Babe" Ruth, the New York Yankees' home-run king, alleging seduction and assault, withdrew her case today. The withdrawal was made just as the case of Robert McChesney, who was to have been examined in supreme court as to the record of Miss Dixon, was about to be called.

Sat On Wife To Drown Her

NEW BRITAIN, CONN., April 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Blowing confessed that he sat on his wife in a shallow pool so that she was drowned, John A. Carlson, a plumbing contractor, was held without bond today.

He said he deliberately drove his automobile over an embankment. The machine overturned and both were thrown into the water. Then Carlson placed a cushion on his wife's head and chest and sat on it, holding her beneath the surface. He sat there until her struggles ceased, according to his statement, and then went to the highway and obtained assistance. He rode to a hospital in an ambulance with his wife's body and told officers that the accident occurred when his wife lost control of the car.

Carlson and his wife were married 24 years ago. Two sons, aged 19 and 15, live in this city. Carlson gave his age as 44.

The drowning occurred a month ago. The police said Carlson confessed last night when confronted with evidence they had obtained. He said he had quarreled on the motor trip with Mrs. Carlson because he purchased for her a fur coat costing $130 when she wanted one costing $300.

Discuss 3 Mile Limit Jail Delivery Thwarted

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Discussion of the question of the jurisdiction of the United States beyond the three-mile limit at sea upon which opposing views were presented by speakers at the opening session held first place on the program for today's session of the American Society of International Law.

Another speech on the proposal for American membership in the permanent court of international justice, following that delivered at the opening session last night by Elihu Root, president of the society, will be made at tonight's session by Secretary Hughes, who is expected to present in some detail the administration's attitude on the question.

Imports Show Gain

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Imports into the United States during February amounted to $296,000,000, compared with $282,843,000 in January last and $257,433,000 in February, 1922.

NEW YORK.—Thousands of unskilled Mexican laborers have been put to work in plants of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, President E. H. Grace announces at a meeting of corporation and says that Mexico, because of absence of immigration restrictions, offers potential source of such labor.

Wins Dance Record And Bride, Too

By NEA Service

DETROIT, MICH.—When Barney Allen, former sailor and pugilist, won the Detroit dance marathon with a record of 96 1/2 hours, continuous dancing, he won a bride as well.

Miss Olive Carr, "just a friend," was Barney's first partner. She danced with him 43 1/2 hours. As they neared the end of the 35th hour, Barney popped the question.

"You bet," said Miss Carr, as she did a fancy guide.

Allen kept on dancing until he collapsed on the floor and was put to bed by physicians.

Ask England To Aid In The Fight On Rum Smuggling

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(By the Associated Press)—New representations on the subject of rum smuggling have been made by the state department to the British government which is requested in friendly terms to co-operate in preventing the flying of the British flag from engaging in liquor traffic between American and foreign ports.

Among the subjects taken up was the question of cancelling the British registry of rum vessels which are to

Business Expansion Continues

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Continued increase in industrial production, further expansion in building operations and further economic betterment each week from an ever expanding level in four years, were reported as among the outstanding features of business conditions this month in a statement today by the Federal Reserve Board.

Current production, the statement stated, was eight per cent higher than in the same month of 1922.

JOHN R. MITCHELL RESIGNS

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(By the Associated Press)—The resignation of John R. Mitchell, of St. Paul, from the federal reserve board was presented to President Harding today by Secretary Mellon.

The resignation of Mr. Mitchell, which was due to a desire to return to private business, created a second vacancy on the board. The president is expected to announce appointments to both vacancies early next week.

Cut Gasoline Price

NEW YORK, April 27.—(By the Associated Press)—The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, today announced another cut of one cent a gallon in the price of gasoline throughout its domestic territory with the exception of a few points where varying adjustments were made. This is the second cut within a week and is due, the company states, to a surplus production of crude oil and a consequent lowering of prices.

Germans Use Bombs

DUESSELDORF, April 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Five separate bomb explosions on the Ruhr Railroad during the night cut railway, telegraph and telephone communication, temporarily disrupting traffic. French headquarters said the explosions had caused the most serious damage since the beginning of occupation. During the confusion the Germans made a series of efforts to run the customs barrier into interior Germany, but large quantities of goods which the Germans were trying to get through, were seized by the French.

The explosions tore up sections of track and blew down the wires along side in each instance. In one case near Bonn, a French troop train, heavily loaded, had a narrow escape. The explosions cut the line from the eastern Ruhr to Dusseldorf, which is much used for troop movements and the carriage of supplies. Four other lines were cut in the vicinity of Hattingsen.

Wage Raise For Paper Makers

NEW YORK, April 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Representatives of eight paper and pulp manufacturing companies and six labor unions operating in the United States and Canada, today signed a one year agreement, effective May 1, increasing wages for all crafts five cents an hour and fixing forty cents an hour as the minimum for common labor. From 30,000 to 40,000 men are affected.

Bandits Steal Whiskey

LOUISVILLE, KY., April 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Fifteen men held up guards at the W. B. Daniels Distillery, near Bardonia, Ky., early today and carried away twenty barrels of whiskey in a stolen truck, according to reports received by federal officers here.

After overpowering the guards, the robbers fired more than 150 shots, apparently for the purpose of preventing interference, the report said. The truck used by the robbers was stolen from near the distillery.

Soon after receiving a report of the robbery, D. Green Miller, chief prohibition agent for Kentucky and Tennessee, left Louisville at the head of a posse of federal agents and police armed with riot guns. The posse members were to block roads leading from the scene in an attempt to head off the robbers.

Harbord Americanizes Radio Corporation

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright 1923 By The Portsmouth Times)

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Announcement by J. G. Harbord, formerly major general in the American expeditionary force and now president of the Radio Corporation of America, that all employees of the company must be American citizens and that those who "do not want to be naturalized are at liberty to leave" has made a profound impression here where it is recognized as a significant sequel to the stories that have been floated ever since the war that British controlled the radio facilities of the world directly or indirectly.

There's an interesting tale behind these rumors. Congress passed its present laws taking the American navy out of the radio business and encouraging private capital to take over stations built during the war largely in the belief that American's military and naval interests could be protected by insisting the radio companies operating here must be American owned.

Originally the American Marconi company was a British concern and when it was reorganized under the name of the Radio Corporation of America (Continued on Page Three)

Wounded By Police Held For Ransom

AKRON, O., April 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Ernest H. Myers, 24, confessed burglar, was fatally wounded early today when he attempted to escape from a squad of police. He died an hour later in the City Hospital.

Earlier in the night Myers had robbed a house in Shaker Heights, and eluded Cleveland police in a chase. His automobile broke down in Cleveland and he abandoned it there, coming to Akron on an interurban car. Cleveland police wired Akron officers the number of the car and they went to Myers' home to await his arrival. When he noticed the policemen on his return home, Myers pulled his gun and turned to flee. The officers fired. Two bullets struck Myers, one in the leg and the other in the back. He confessed before he died at the hospital.

Message From Dead

TOLEDO, O., April 27.—A scribbled note, purporting to be a message from his dead mother, was received by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle Thursday night during a seance with Miss Ada Besant, distinguished Toledo musician.

The lettering begins: "My dear son," infers Sir Arthur that his mother had tried to come to him in spirit, but failing, implored him of her presence by means of the note. The English novelist also received what he said was a whispered message from his nephew, Oscar, killed in the world war.

Called To Door Of Home And Shot; Four Slain

HAWORTH, OKLA., April 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Thomas Hammill, a planter, his wife and their daughter, a Mrs. Tope, and the latter's 10-year old son, were shot to death when they were called to the door of the Hammill home near here early today and fired on by two men who rode up to the house on horseback. A five-year-old daughter of Mrs. Tope was probably fatally wounded. The identity of the men has not been determined.

All the persons were shot while sleeping in a front room of the house when the horsemen called them to the door. Two boys in another room escaped injury. Neighbors declared today they saw two men on horseback ride rapidly away after the shooting was heard.

They said Mrs. Tope and her husband were estranged and she had come to her father's home to live. Mr. and Mrs. Tope resided in Red River county, Texas, until three weeks ago, they said.

12 Perish As Blaze Sweeps New York Tenement House

NEW YORK, April 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Fire of mysterious origin, starting in a pile of rubbish on the first floor of a three-story brick tenement in East 109th street, early today mushroomed through the building and caused the deaths of twelve persons, members of two families living on the top floor.

Twenty persons were injured and firemen made spectacular rescues of many of the 300 living in the building. Seven of the dead were members of the family of David Mandelbaum, a painter, who had planned to move today to a little farm upstate, which he recently purchased. They were Mrs. Mandelbaum and her children, whose ages ranged from one to 16 years.

The other dead were Aaron Kuzis, his wife, their daughter Bertha, 21, their son David, 15, and a relative, Mrs. Isaac Brownstein, who was visiting them.

Mandelbaum, who was rescued by firemen and police after he had made a desperate attempt to save his family, said he was awakened by smoke, and when he opened the door of his bedroom he was met with a rush of flame. His little son, Hyman, who also had been awakened, crawled on his hands and knees behind him. Mandelbaum placed the youngster on the fire escape and told him to climb down and wait for the firemen. He was rescued.

The Kuzis family, which occupied an apartment opposite the Mandelbaum was trapped. Mrs. Brownstein was pulled out of the room unconscious by firemen and taken to a hospital, where she died.

Many more persons would have been trapped by the flames, according to the police, had it not been for Michael Kauffman, a city employee living across from the fire. Seeing smoke and flames shooting from a fourth floor window, Kauffman telephoned a fire alarm and immediately rushed across the street into the burning building and ran through the halls of the five floors blowing a police whistle between shouts of "Fire."

As he fled from the building, the rapidly spreading flames enveloped the wooden stairways, driving the forty or more tenants still in the building to seek safety through the windows or on the fire escapes.

Arriving at the street, Kauffman continued to blow his police whistle until he had attracted the attention of Angelo Maggitti, a taxi driver, who drove him to the hospital. The fire, starting at the fifth floor, from which the terrified tenants had dropped to the cab's roof.

With the arrival of the fire department, a half dozen men and women were found to be hanging from window sills and were brought to safety after thrilling rescues. A number of persons who stood at windows were only prevented from jumping by the encouraging shouts of firemen who hastily ran up aerial ladders and carried them to the street. Sympathetic neighbors hastily organized a relief squad and after providing wraps and clothing for the fire victims, took them into their homes.

Firemen said later that the fire was believed to have originated in some garbage beneath the stairway on the second floor. The fire spread with lightning-like rapidity, cutting off exits to the third, fourth and fifth floors before many of them could make their way to the street by the wooden stairways.

Today's fire was in a five-story tenement house within three blocks

Pays Penalty In The Chair For Murder Of Policeman

COLUMBUS, O., April 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Turning a deaf ear to a final plea of his wife, that he tell her where he had a case of money concealed, which she said she needed for the support of her two small children, Noble "Red" Holt, 27, switchman of Cincinnati, nervously walked to the electric chair shortly after midnight last night. He was pronounced dead by the prison physician at 12:07 a.m., after one application of current had passed through his body.

Holt's wife visited him late yesterday afternoon and fervently pleaded with him to reveal where his money was and consent to her taking the children to her parents' home for proper care and an education. To her entreaties he turned a deaf ear, according to prison officials. He went to his death without revealing where the money was, if any.

To newspaper reporters he refused to discuss the crime or his fate. His only comment was "I am ready to die and I guess that is about all there is to it." Until he was confident something would happen, and that he would escape the chair.

He told his wife, "something will turn up to save me." "If I have to die, I'll go with a clear conscience," he added.

As Holt entered the death chamber he appeared nervous and obdurate to his surroundings. He seemed as if a daze. As he sat down in the chair he closed his eyes and only opened them once, as the death mask was being placed over his face. A last look as it was. No smile or expressive look passed over his face.

Just before the current was turned on he clenched his fists tightly and died without uttering a sound.

Holt was convicted of shooting to death Frank Huettlein, a Cincinnati detective in that city, April 15, 1922.

Discusses Transportation

CLEVELAND, O., April 27.—(By the Associated Press)—C. D. Emmons, of Baltimore, president of the American Electric Railway Association, discussed the co-ordination of street railway and motor bus transportation at this morning's session of the automotive transportation division of the society of automotive engineers' convention.

"The ultimate solution of local transportation problems," Mr. Emmons said, will be the co-ordination of electric railway and motor bus service. No conflict exists between the motor bus and electric railway industries, he said, although some railways are suffering from bus competition engendered by individuals. Leaders of both industries, he added, are working together to determine the best methods of co-ordinating local service.

"Whatever new forms of transportation may be developed, with the possible exception of air navigation," Mr. Emmons said, "must be auxiliary to the rail lines. He quoted Mr. Alfred Reeves, general manager of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce as declaring bus and truck lines should be operated by railroad men as feeders to trolley and steam lines.

G. O. P. Members Of Assembly Face 74 Bills Vetoed By Danahey

COLUMBUS, Pa., April 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Republican members of the Pennsylvania assembly at Lancaster this morning were endeavoring to decide what course to pursue regarding bills vetoed by Governor Danahey.

Both the senate and house are to convene at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, after a recess of several hours.

Of the 237 measures enacted by the assembly, 74 were disapproved by the governor, 150 were signed and the remainder were allowed to become law without executive action.

Winding up his legislative study late yesterday, the governor cut $4,008,304 from the $72,000,000 general appropriation measure and $81,780.56 from the sundry claims bill. One of the principal cuts in the general appropriation measure was $1,728,000 for new buildings at Ohio State University. The governor's reason, he said, was because the appropriation called for no specific program, no mention being made in the bill as to what buildings were to be erected with the money.

Represented in the $81,780.56 cut in the sundry claims bill was $64,870.71, the claim of three coal companies for coal furnished state institutions under the administration of former Governor Davis, payment for which was enjoined in the courts because of alleged illegal awarding of contracts.

The $238,000 appropriation for an addition to the museum and library building of the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Department at Ohio State University also was disapproved.

Some Ohio and Miami University appropriations also met with disapproval. Presidents' salary increases of $1,500 each, were disapproved, as were increases of $1,000 each for the presidents of Bowling Green and Kent Normal Schools. Unless money for salaries of these officers is taken from some other appropriations for the schools, they will have to serve without pay.

The Miami building program, including provisions for two new buildings was cut $305,000, and at Ohio University $400,000 appropriations for two new buildings was disapproved. The governor said he regarded the building as unnecessary.

The sum of $25,000 for general improvements at Bowling Green-Normal, also was eliminated.

National Guard armories to cost $225,000, met with disapproval. The armories were to have been built at Canton, Dresden, London, Ohio City and Winchester.

Among other items in the general appropriation bill which were disapproved, were $20,000 for the state tax commission in conducting a reappraisal of real estate next year and the $20,000 appropriation for maintaining sub-agencies for automobile registration for two years.

SOCIETY

Mrs. W. D. Hess of Park Avenue was hostess of a lovely spring party on Thursday afternoon, at which the members of the "Antique Club" were present. During the afternoon, the guests were entertained with two delightful guessing contests, with the result that Mrs. E. B. Hicks won in the first contest and Mrs. H. A. Lloyd, was the winner in the Flower Contest. The afternoon was brought to a happy close with a refreshing ice course, served by the hostess who was charmingly assisted by her sister, Mrs. Fred Williams, of Washington, D. C. Those in attendance were, Mrs. H. G. Applegate, Mrs. George Carlyle, Mrs. E. A. Lloyd, Mrs. B. E. Hicks, Mrs. Henry Smith, Mrs. Ben King, and Mrs. Mary Morgan.

An extra table of guests played with the members of the Scotch Bridge Club when they assembled at the home of Miss Kate McConnell on Glover street. Thursday afternoon for their bi-monthly meeting. Those included Mrs. David Williams, Miss Katherine Hall, Miss Helen Hardin and Mrs. Joseph Jones of Oak Hill. At the close of several interesting games the hostess served an attractively appointed refreshment course at the small tables.

The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. James W. Bannan in two weeks.

A delightful afternoon was enjoyed by the members of the Art Circle yesterday at the home of Mrs. Grace L. Goodwin on Fourth street. Needlework and social chat were the chief diversions, with an elegant lunch in conclusion.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Spencer on Franklin avenue.

The following program was given by the Kappa Sigma Pi and Phi Beta Pi clubs of Maple church last evening to a very pleasing audience.

A very interesting lecture was given by Mr. Ben Wise on "A Trip Through the Holy Land." Beautiful musical selections were rendered, with bells by Howard Smith, accompanied by Ada Stewart at piano; also violin solos by Katherine Blazer, accompanied by Charlotte Swartz. A vocal solo, "Poor Old Maid," by Hannah Heider, accompanied by Georgia McCord, made a decided hit.

Short addresses were given by Earl Roth and Anna Busch concerning the Pi Fraternity Movement.

The athletic features put on by Vanie McCoy were enjoyed by all present.

The play, "Wanted a License to Wed," was very amusing, with Walter Mitchell acting as sergeant of the police force.

The entertainment, which was varied in the different features, was a decided success in every way and was enjoyed by those present.

Attorney, and Mrs. Edgar G. Miller and children, Louise and Margaret, and Mrs. Wendell Staten and daughter, Pauline, motored to Ironton today, where the children will take part in the "Dream Vision," which will be presented this evening by Miss Florence Schofield Young's Junior Dance pupils.

The Loyal Girls' Class of the First Christian church will hold a bake sale of home made pies, cakes, candies and other good things to eat tomorrow, beginning at eleven o'clock at Prichard's garage on Gallia street.

Mrs. William Martin, of Gallia street, was hostess on Tuesday of the members of the Eldest Club. Mrs. Samuel McFerrin and Miss Mary Hunt were guests of the afternoon. Needlework was the diversion, followed with a tempting refreshment course.

City Council, in session Thursday night, recently declared its "policy" upon the proposed improvement program for 1923 and took the initial steps to carry out their plans by ordering the necessary legislation to proceed with the improvements of more than a score of streets and alleys, the most important of which is the Boulevard Road project, which provides for the paving and widening of the road to sixty feet its entire length, making it into a beautiful drive.

Other important matters considered in the caucus were the proposed "loop" to connect the Hilltop and Third street car lines and a discussion by the mayor in respect to city finances.

Streets and alleys to be paved this year, as recommended by the Street Committee, Edward Weppahl, chairman, include the following, but the list is subject to revision and it will be finally determined at the next meeting.

Fourth street, from Market to Madison; Jackson street, through the Hineswood addition.

Third avenue and Twenty-second street, back of the McKinley School.

Summit street, from Twenty-first to Twenty-second streets.

Valley street.

Market street.

The Boulevard improvement.

Harding avenue.

An alley between Third and Fourth streets, from Chillicothe to Bond.

An alley between Eleventh and Twelfth streets from Gallia to Broadway.

An alley between Eleventh and Twelfth streets from Madison to Clay.

An alley between Third and Fourth from Officers to Madison.

An alley between Highland and Robinson.

An alley between Seventeenth and Eighteenth from Grandview to Highland.

An alley between Fifth and Jackson, east of Brown.

A street known as Green street, near Fourth and Waller.

An alley between Fourth and Fifth, from Officers to the York drive.

An alley between Fourth and Fifth, west of Washington.

An alley between Eighth and Ninth, from John to Waller.

Briggs avenue, through Waller street.

An alley running from Brown street through the York addition.

Center street.

Cypress street.

Wanda Avenue.

During the course of the discussion City Engineer George Wilhelm told Council that he would have to have another man to take care of the work in his department, and a recommendation from Mayor Gableman and Service Director Gergius will probably be forthcoming at the next regular meeting.

Council Must Determine Route.

The extension of the Belt Line, connecting the Hilltop and Third street car lines, pursuant to an agreement made by The Portsmouth Street Railway & Light company, was informally discussed, H. H. Higgins and Attorney Harry W. Miller appearing for the Rail company.

Mr. Higgins stated that it was up to council to determine the route of the proposed "loop," and while he said the company would rather make

Mr. and Mrs. George Kyle, of Logan, W. Va., who have been the guests of Mrs. Ben Ross, of Twelfth street, have returned home.

The phone number of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Evans, who recently moved to 1020 Eighth street, has been changed to 2834.

Mrs. Mary Brown, of Haverhill, sister of Mrs. America Hannah, of Scioto Trail, is seriously ill in an Ironton Hospital.

Mrs. Sadie Like, of Scioto Trail, is quite ill at the home of her son, Ernest Like, Scioto Trail.

Don Neepor, of Argonne road, is in Chillicothe on business.

Mrs. Mary Morgan, Miss Thelma Sargent of Third Street, went to Newport, Ky., Thursday to visit with relatives and to attend the annual celebration of the Girl Scout Troop of which she is a member. The troop formed a theatre party on Thursday evening at the Cox Theatre, and will have a hike and out-door supper on Saturday.

Miss Genevieve Lureamp, of Twelfth street, and Miss Ruth Hiner, of Clay street, left Thursday to attend the Baptist Missionary Convention at St. Louis.

Prohibition Troubles From Bootlegging To Bribery Under Fire Of High Officials

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Prohibition troubles from bootlegging to allegations of bribery in several states accumulated here today, and engaged the attention of high officials of at least three federal agencies: the treasury and justice departments and prohibition enforcement headquarters. There were indications that facts developed from the several investigations in progress might ultimately come before President Harding for action.

Charges of fraud among former and possibly present prohibition agents caused orders for an investigation by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Another investigation along similar lines, involving alleged tenders of bribes for "protection" to former prohibition officers already is under way by the Department of Justice, whose agents are making inquiries among "bootleg" circles of New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Pittsburgh and other cities.

The Internal Revenue Bureau's investigation also was said to extend into several states, involving the personnel of several state prohibition agents.

In Two States.

Prohibition personnel, troubles in Illinois and Alabama had further official airings during the day. Roscoe C. Andrews, suspended prohibition director for Illinois conferred with Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair but did not call upon Prohibition Commissioner Haynes who ordered his suspension for authorizing delivery of thousands of gallons of liquor to stockholders of a liquidated Chicago concern. Commissioner Blair and Mr. Andrews declined to comment on their conference but it was said that there probably would be further developments after conclusion of the investigation of the Chicago case by Internal Revenue Bureau agents.

Another prohibition personnel difficulty, from Alabama, following the recent suspension there of the acting state director and three assistants, provoked a statement today from Commissioner Haynes denying that Conrad W. Austin, general agent, had been "called off" from an investigation of the Alabama staff.

Mr. Haynes said the inquiry, following usual practice, was turned over to the intelligence unit of Commissioner Blair's office after Mr. Austin's preliminary work had been concluded and the four Alabama agents suspended.

The incidence of the several prohibition cases was said to be unusual although personnel difficulties in the prohibition unit are under investigation almost constantly. It was said, however, that Secretary Mellon of the Treasury Department was concerned over some of the methods being employed in prohibition enforcement.

There also was a revival of reports of difficulties between Secretary Mellon, Commissioner Blair and Commissioner Haynes. The latter, however, insisted that no serious disputes exist, although there naturally have been disagreements in federal administrative work.

Haynes Blames Foes.

Commissioner Haynes has often declared that foes of prohibition have endeavored frequently to "make trouble" with his superiors. In this connection, prohibition headquarters officials pointed out that his office was without authority to conduct final investigations into the conduct of prohibition agents, these being prosecuted by the intelligence unit under Commissioner Blair, the immediate superior of Commissioner Haynes, and also by the Department of Justice.

Chairman Sterling of the Senate Civil Service Commission, announced today that he would renew the fight in Congress at the next session to have prohibition officers placed under the civil service.

Turned Over To Blair.

Mr. Haynes said the inquiry, following usual practice, was turned over to the intelligence unit of Commissioner Blair's office after Mr. Austin's preliminary work had been concluded and the four Alabama agents suspended.

The incidence of the several prohibition cases was said to be unusual although personnel difficulties in the prohibition unit are under investigation almost constantly. It was said, however, that Secretary Mellon of the Treasury Department was concerned over some of the methods being employed in prohibition enforcement.

There also was a revival of reports of difficulties between Secretary Mellon, Commissioner Blair and Commissioner Haynes. The latter, however, insisted that no serious disputes exist, although there naturally have been disagreements in federal administrative work.

Haynes Blames Foes.

Commissioner Haynes has often declared that foes of prohibition have endeavored frequently to "make trouble" with his superiors. In this connection, prohibition headquarters officials pointed out that his office was without authority to conduct final investigations into the conduct of prohibition agents, these being prosecuted by the intelligence unit under Commissioner Blair, the immediate superior of Commissioner Haynes, and also by the Department of Justice.

Chairman Sterling of the Senate Civil Service Commission, announced today that he would renew the fight in Congress at the next session to have prohibition officers placed under the civil service.

Harbord

America, it is true that the majority of the stock was held by American citizens, in fact the American Telephone and Telegraph company and the General Electric company together exercised the control, but it so happened that many of the officers of the company were English or Canadian. Many of the original Marconi employees were retained.

Some of the men in the navy department here who saw the American Radio Corporation take over existing stations did not like the idea of alien management, in fact, while the owners were American, the actual operations of the company was repeatedly said to be in the hands of citizens of the British empire. Rumor has it that several stormy meetings of the board of directors of the American Radio Corporation were held in which the viewpoint of the American navy was heard from, but it was not until Major General Harbord resigned as assistant chief of staff of the United States army to accept the presidency of the American Radio Corporation that people here felt secure about the management of radio communication with foreign countries.

The step taken by General Harbord, therefore, is not surprising for it means he intends to follow to the letter the wishes of the American owners of the Radio Corporation that the company be operated in consonance with American naval desires. The very appointment of General Harbord carried with it an assurance that radio communication would be established with the rest of the world on a basis that would prevent international ill-will. For the radio corporation has begun operations in many parts of the world, and has linked its system with the internal telephone lines of many countries. At the present stage of world affairs, an American company has a greater chance to establish closer relations with foreign governments than concerns from any of the other allied countries. The radio corporation will in time find itself the main avenue of communication, for instance, between Germany and the United States as the French and British did not seem willing as yet to give American cable companies the necessary access to Germany by direct lines.

Radio corporation connections are being established in South America and in time the present inadequate communication across the Pacific will be improved by the use of radio. Delays to the cables in the Pacific have interfered seriously with the growth of trans-Pacific trade and while the American navy is at present helping out, ultimately private concerns must undertake the job for under present laws the American navy can accept messages only between points at which private companies are unable to handle the business. Difficulties at present with the Chinese government over American concessions for the erection of wireless stations are due, it is said, largely to the influence of certain interests. The American Radio Corporation is perhaps the biggest company of its kind in the world. It has arrangements with the internal telephone distributions of France and Great Britain and Germany and will cover the European continent in time with other connections. In America, it has affiliated itself with the Postal Telegraph Company which forwards or distributes most of the radiograms received or sent to coast stations.

The fight for American control and operation of foreign communications had its reflex in the controversy over cables and it was not until certain British connections of the Western Union gave up monopolies which were said to have discriminated against American cable companies in South America, that official permission was given by the United States government for the landing of new cables on the Florida coast connecting this country and South America. Most of the cable lines of the world are British-owned or British controlled. The radio business lends itself to foreign domination because of the natural connections that must be formed with various countries of the world but the step taken by General Harbord means that while the radio corporation will not discriminate against foreign countries, its operations from within will hereafter be entirely Americanized and no one who is not a citizen will be hired except by special permission from General Harbord himself.

Forty Two Rescued,
Ship Is Total Wreck

MARSHFIELD, ORE., April 27.—Forty-two men of the steamer Brush that went ashore last night near the entrance to Coos Bay were being taken to North Bend today by the coast guard in the tug Oregon and in several life boats. All on board the Brush were saved. The vessel will be a total wreck.

Sheriff Is Removed

TALLAHASSEE, FLA., April 27.—The Florida Senate late today voted to remove from office Sheriff J. B. Jones of Leon county. This action was taken in the crusade against ill-treatment of convicts in this state, brought on by the death of Martin Tubor of North Dakota.

The Senate's action came after a recommendation of Governor Hardee that the Sheriff be removed for malfeasance in office. Jones had admitted to the committee he received $500 for each prisoner he turned over to the Putnam Lumber Company at its Clara, Florida, camp. Other charges were that he, his deputies and County Judge B. F. Willis entered into a collusion in the arrest and conviction of alleged law violators.

Between times, the testimony showed they staged drinking parties. These charges the officials have denied.

Troops May Be Sent.

Troops should be sent to Dixie county to protect state witnesses when the trial of Walter Higgins, botham, charged with murder in connection with Tabert's death is called May 10, Representative C. H. Kennerly, declared today in reporting to the Legislative Committee of his trip to Clara, yesterday.

Ford Has New Plan

DETROIT, MICH., April 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Statements in the State Senate at Lansing late yesterday to the effect that Henry Ford planned to build a factory on every water power site he can obtain in Michigan and give winter employment at city wages, to the farmers, were confirmed by persons close to the automobile manufacturer today.

The announcement was made by Senator Andrew B. Glasco, of Oxford, and came during debate on a water power bill. He said if the bill was passed it would mean the establishment of additional industrial enterprises in Michigan aggregating $100,000,000 in value and giving employment to all farmers and their helpers at good wages during the time when farm work is slack.

The bill would permit any group of not fewer than three persons to form a corporation to dam any stream or streams for the purpose of producing and selling power. Under the bill it would be possible to condemn lands with approval of the state public utilities commission.

Mr. Ford proposes it is understood, to move the factories to the farmers, instead of taking the farmers to the factories.

Under the plan he would dot the state with manufacturing concerns that would operate at full capacity during the winter, the farmers being released each spring to care for their crops.

Ford Denies Rumor That He Plans To Buy Northwest Road

ST. PAUL, MINN., April 27.—Henry Ford came to St. Paul today, quietly and unannounced to look over the site his engineers have chosen for the automobile manufacturing plant he is to erect on the Mississippi River here.

"The finest piece of ground in the country for my purpose," he said after he had viewed the site, which is at the government dam, whose power has been awarded to the Ford Company.

Mr. Ford said he would have a $4,000,000 plant employing 3,000 men in operation here by next January 1. He denied he contemplated purchase of a railroad in the section or intended buying a newspaper.

Arkansas Lady Says Mother Gave Her Cardui and She Had No More Trouble of This Kind

Lamar, Ark.—Mrs. Edith Seeman, here, recently made the following statement describing her experience in the use of Cardui:

"I had pain in my back and sides; had sick headaches and my nose would bleed. I couldn't sit up at all."

"My mother gave me Cardui. I took about a half bottle and at this time I was able to get up and help with the work. Next time I took it again, and now, after taking two bottles, I do not have any trouble at all at this time. I gained, my skin cleared up, I am healthy and strong."

"My mother took Cardui for a week run-down condition. It did her more good for weakness and nervousness than any medicine she has ever taken. She took six bottles in all. We recommend it and certainly know its worth."

PASTOR SLAYS BELLY
AKRON, O., April 27.—Rev. Joseph Varhol, 33, a Russian orthodox church pastor, killed himself in a hotel room here early today by slitting his throat. He was dependent police said, because his wife had deserted him. Papers in his possession showed he was under parole from a New York City court with instructions to remain sober and not molest his family. He had lived in New York, Philadelphia and Minneapolis before coming to Akron.

Court House

Notes Proceedings of Court

A suit in replevin was brought in common pleas court Friday by John Moore, suing through Attorney George F. Sheppard, seeking to gain possession of six steers from Sam May. In his petition the plaintiff says he is the owner and is entitled to the possession of the steers which he alleges the defendant wrongfully detained and has so detained for one day to the damage of the plaintiff in the sum of $50, for which amount he asks judgment.

Oppy Seeks Divorce

Allen W. Oppy, Henley, charges neglect, cruelty and infidelity and names one Ira Hockaday in his suit for divorce and custody of their minor child instituted in common pleas court Friday against Bedelia Oppy, now living with a sister at Dry Run, West Side.

Matthew Will Pay Alimony

By agreement according to an approved entry filed in the office of the clerk of courts Friday, Harry O. Matheas, N. & W. engineer, will pay his wife, Maude Mythen, Jackson Street, the sum of $25 a week for the support of herself and children pending the hearing of her suit for divorce and alimony on its merits. In making the order Judge Thomas dissolved the temporary injunction releasing the defendant's wages.

Kirby Ordered To Pay

Edward Kirby, shoemaker, was ordered by Judge Thomas Friday to pay his wife, Martha Kirby, 2305 Sixth street, the sum of $10 a week alimony, pending the final hearing on her suit for divorce and alimony now pending in common pleas court.

Make General Denial

The answer of the Vernon Coal company, Rarden, filed through Attorney B. E. Kimble Friday to the suit of the Three States Coal company, amounts to a general denial and by way of cross petition alleges that the plaintiffs are not financially responsible, have no financial ratings and ask judgment in the sum of $120.25, claimed to be due on account for a car of coal shipped the plaintiffs last July.

Taken To Mansfield

James G. Mosley, former N. & W. fireman, and Willie Jones, young negro, who were recently sentenced to the Mansfield Reformatory by Judge Thomas under their admissions of guilt of the indictments brought against them, were taken to the Mansfield prison by county officers Friday to start on their terms.

Mosley was sentenced for bigamy and Jones for the larceny of rings from the Apol jewelry store.

Attack Dock Yard

CORK, April 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Irregular forces made an abortive attack on the Haulbowline island dock yard in Cork Harbor early today pouring a hail of machine gun bullets into the buildings on the island from two points on the main land.

The Free State troops replied and after the firing had been in progress two hours cleared the attacking parties from their positions. The irregulars eluded troop reinforcements for the garrison sent from Queensdown.

There are no reports as to the casualties. Houses in the vicinity of the irregulars' positions were damaged by the fire of the defenders.

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these true sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

—You have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them, the said Dr. Edwards.

Rum Made And Sold In Pen; Prisoners Run Place

PHILADELPHIA, PA., April 27.—Country grand jury in a report to the court today on its inspection of prisons and city hospitals stated that in a visit to the eastern penitentiary it "saw prisoners under the influence of drugs and liquor, found a still in actual operation where liquor was being made, and that the jury was able to purchase brandy from one of the dealers in the penitentiary."

The report was eagerly awaited as a result of the resignation announced last Saturday of Warden Robert J. McKelvey and the declaration by a prison inspector that a self-constituted committee of desperate prisoners, known among the inmates as the "four horsemen" were running the penitentiary.

The grand jury report stated that much of the recent trouble at the Penitentiary was due to the fact that more than 1700 prisoners are confined in 500 cells, with 110 guards working in three shifts. Three women are confined in cells built for two. Unemployment among the men and women is also noted, most of the women prisoners sitting idle in their cells all day and that even the existence in prison for the men is still more depressing.

"The food at the prison was unpalatable," the report said, "and on one occasion the bread was sour and the meat was indescribably tough."

Prison Death Probed.
LANSING, MICH., April 27.—Evidence introduced to establish that Frank Patterson, of Orlando, Fla., who died a fortnight ago in the Iowa Reformatory was struck by a prison guard after he had attacked the latter, was before Gov. Greenbeck today. A transcript of evidence taken in the investigation into Patterson's death was presented to the governor by Prosecuting Attorney Harry Gemund and Sheriff Henry Cook of Iowa.

According to the report, Patterson had been placed in solitary confinement following an infraction of prison rules. He was being taken to the solitary cell by Leo Rolfe, a guard when, the report asserts, he suddenly turned upon the guard. The two Iowa officials reported that their conclusion that Patterson came to his death through being struck in self defense by Rolfe.

Borah Opens Broadside On Harding's Court Proposal

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Senator Borah, of Idaho, a leader of the Republican irreconcilables in the Senate fight over the treaty of Versailles and the League of Nations covenant, tonight inaugurated his campaign of opposition to the administration proposal that the United States accept membership in the Permanent Court of International Justice, the world arbitration tribunal set up under the league.

In a statement setting forth his views, the Idaho Senator declared that the Republican party in asserting that the United States can go into the league court and stay out of the league is taking a position which will bring down upon it the moral condemnation of everyone.

Says It's Impossible.
"I think the proposition that you can go into the league court and still continue to be against the league, or stay out of the league, is the most remarkable proposition ever presented to the public," Mr. Borah added. "It is an impossible proposition. It would never be suggested if political expediency did not seem to require it." Issuance of the statement was the foremost development today in the world court discussions which continue to engage many of the members of the Senate who are in Washington. Several senators today as on yesterday conferred on the matter, among them Senators Lodge, of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, and Watson of Indiana, but from these conferences nothing developed to indicate definitely the trend of sentiment.

The administration proposal received support from Elihu Root, who sat as a member of the commission that drafted the court statute, in an address delivered tonight at the meeting here of the American Society of International Law. Before the same organization Secretary Hughes tomorrow night will further explain the administration plan.

Nineteen new members were received at the weekly session of the Carpenters Local last night, when State Secretary Arnold/Bill was present and made an interesting talk on labor conditions throughout the state. The new members admitted were: M. O. French, H. S. Bush, J. H. Nichols, Stanley Zornes, James Pennington, William Carr, Leonard Conklin, James Allen, Frank Reinhardt, Guy Hopkins, Arch Thompson, P. P. Mainwaring, J. P. Vandervort, E. E. Cyrus, Earl Woodson, Charles Bard, J. H. Baer, L. C. Newman and Albert Hughes.

The Local is now meeting in the Moose hall, Third and Washington streets since their quarters in Macomber hall were fire swept.

EAGLE GOAL IS 100 CANDIDATES

Plans for the big class initiation, arranged by River City Aerie of Eagles in honor of Frank Pratt, of Ironton, first worthy president of the local Aerie, are still going forward and the affair which will be held on May 27th, promises to be a red letter event in the history of the local lodge. Four applications for membership were received by the Aerie at its meeting last night and by May 27 it is hoped to increase the list to 100 candidates.

The contract for furnishing degree team paraphernalia has been awarded to the Lilly company of Columbus, and the new uniforms and equipment will be used for the first time at the Pratt initiation.

Five Men Killed As Scaffold Falls
LONGVIEW, WASH., April 27.—Five bricklayers were killed today when a scaffold fell from the roof of the hotel Monticello under construction here. A sixth workman escaped by grasping a portion of the scaffolding that did not fall. The accident occurred after the man had returned from lunch. Inspection of the scaffolding revealed no reason for the break. The hotel is a six story building.

Stock Injured

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 27.—Third baseman Milton Stock of the St. Louis Nationals, who received a bruised nose from being struck by a ball in fielding practice yesterday, will be out of the line up for several days, it was announced. Stock, while painfully injured, suffered no broken bones.

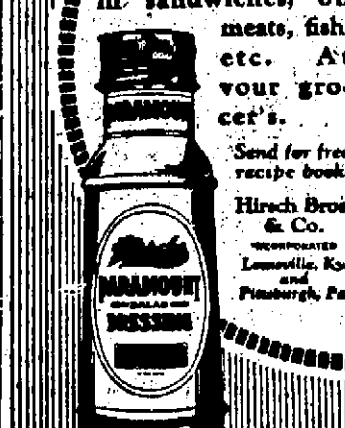

Found Unconscious

CALEXICO, CAL., April 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Robert Moody, said to be a son of the late Dwight L. Moody, the evangelist, was found unconscious in the doorway of a business house here last night. The police said he apparently had been sand-bagged and pronounced his condition serious. He was taken to a hospital, where efforts to restore consciousness were unsuccessful.

This is the third time within a year that Moody has been found in a similar condition. The police say they have no clue to his assailant, but express the opinion the same man was responsible for all three attacks.

In Sugar Hearing

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Acting Attorney General Cummings announced today that the government has filed a certificate of expedition in the sugar case filed in New York in order to prevent possible delay in the court hearing of which is set for April 30.

The government's petition, he said, sets forth that the case "is one of general importance to the public" and should be given precedence over others. Under the certificate of expedition, the way also would be paved for an immediate appeal by either side to the supreme court, the certificate removing the need for an intermediate hearing by the circuit court of appeals.

OHIO STATE SUMMER QUARTER TO FEATURE COURSES FOR TEACHERS

COLUMBUS, O., April 27.—Featuring chiefly by a great increase in the number and variety of courses offered by the college of education, the summer quarter of the Ohio State University will consist of two terms, the first beginning June 18 and ending July 25. The second extends from July 26 to Sept. 1.

Little Talks on GOITRE

by SANO-BARK L.C. COLUMBUS, OHIO

Goitre weakens the "will." Therefore those who have it, easily fall into the habit of putting things off. Every one who has Goitre hopes to get rid of it some day, some way, some how, but they put it off, and so the days slip into weeks, and the weeks into months, the months into years, until they suddenly awaken to the fact that they are in a desperate and dangerous condition, all due to neglect in youth when it could have been easily corrected; however, it is never too late to mend. Yesterday is dead, and tomorrow never comes. Secure the SANO-BARK REMEDY from your druggist TODAY. If he cannot supply you, write SANO-BARK Laboratories, Columbus, O. DON'T PUT IT OFF.

extensive equipment of the university at the service of those who cannot attend college during the regular academic year.

One hundred and forty one courses are offered by the college of education whose faculty during the summer will include practically all members of the regular teaching staff and in addition a number of eminent educators from other institutions. Special lectures will be given, moreover, by distinguished educators and laymen who will be brought to the campus for the purpose.

The bureau of educational research organized two years ago, for investigating educational problems, and the psychological clinic, under Dr. H. H. Goddard, will be in operation throughout the quarter. The psychological clinic aims to serve the children of Ohio by applying to their problems the best that science has to offer. Under auspices of the college of education courses will be given by departments as follows: fine arts, seven history of education, six; industrial education, 13; music, 11; physical education, 23; principles of education, 22 (including elementary and rural education); psychology, 25; school administration, 16; vocational education, six. In addition to the large number of professional courses a much greater variety of academic work will be offered to students of the college of education than has been the case in any previous summer session here.

Although the new four-year course in physical education does not begin until next fall, many of the courses offered under that curriculum are available during the summer quarter. To meet the demand for qualified teachers of part-time and continuation school pupils a course in vocational education leading to a degree has been established.

N. & W. May Extend Line Into Huntington

The Huntington Herald Dispatch says:

The extension of the Norfolk and Western railway lines from Kenova to Huntington loomed yesterday on the horizon of Huntington's future growth to the position of a great commercial center of the middle west.

Announcement made yesterday morning that the Norfolk and Western is to construct an extension of its belt line in Kenova, opening up an era of industrial growth for that vicinity, has been hailed in Huntington as a stepping stone to realization of a Norfolk and Western railway terminus in Huntington to accommodate the city's transportation facilities.

The Huntington Chamber of Commerce, it was disclosed yesterday, has been silently erecting a platform of industrial prospects on which to base a well-supported request that the Norfolk and Western company supply the missing link of trackage that lies between Huntington and the territory covered by the Norfolk and Western lines and the Pennsylvania railroad system.

A request that the Norfolk and Western and the Pennsylvania lines establish an "off line" foot office in Huntington has been made by the Chamber of Commerce. It was announced by H. E. Matthews, secretary of the chamber.

THE POURING OUT PARTY IN PICTORIAL FORM

These pictures tell the story of the record pouring out party as it took place at the home of H. B. Morris, Twenty-third street and Sumner avenue Thursday morning following a sensational raid staged at that home by Federal Officer Walter Riskey, State Probation Officer Harry Casper, Sheriff Dunham and his deputies.

The first photograph gives an idea of the immense size of the still, and of the manner in which it was operated.

This still, when set up in the cellar of the Morris home, was encased in fire brick. It was heated by three gasoline blazes. The steam rising in the cone shaped affair at the top of the still, condensed and runs down the long pipe into the first container, thence into the second container, making the third conversion in the process, and on into the long copper coil, which is in the large tub, shown in the photo.

The pile of sacks shown back of the tub is corn meal and salt, and, on the extreme right, near the corner of the porch, is piled sacks of whiskey. Each sack contained five five gallon jugs.

After that, the deluge.

From this photograph some idea of the quantity of liquor poured out may be ascertained. Federal Officer Riskey is shown standing in the foreground, on a board extending down into the gutter, and the liquor, which is running into the sewer, is above the lower end of the board supporting him.

Broken bottles and debris are shown strewn about, and floating in the stream of whiskey.

The still, large vats, which had not been removed at the time the photographs were taken, and other paraphernalia is estimated to have cost between fifteen hundred and two thousand dollars, and the whiskey which was destroyed, at present bootleggers market prices, represents a figure which looks like the national debt of Russia.

The men, according to their statements and the figures shown on books which they kept, averaged between three hundred and fifty and four hundred gallons output, a week.

They were not running at capacity at any time, one of the prisoners said.

Credit Men Mobilize In Wheelersburg For Splendid Rally; Loving Cup Is Presented

While the Bluebird Inn at Wheelersburg will not be open to the public until May 1, the Credit Men's Association of Portsmouth certainly did the preliminaries up very well when they held their April meeting and luncheon there last evening. The dinner was served at six and they were all present. President C. M. Howland, and his assistants had expected about twenty-five of the members and perhaps a few visitors present but he was made doubly happy when the count was taken and it was found that forty-four, who were either members or prospective members, came for fellowship and to talk real business.

The chicken dinner served by the management of Bluebird Inn certainly maintained the reputation of the Inn and the association were of one mind concerning the dinner. They proved it, judging by capacities registered at the close of the meal.

Immediately after the dinner President C. M. Howland called for Vice-President R. W. Goddard, who proceeded to tune up the bunch with a number of tuneful melodies in which it seemed that every man and woman for there were some women present.

joined most heartily. After a few songs that loosened up the vocal cords and stimulated fellowship the meeting got down to real business.

President Howland told the association that they had eight meetings planned for the year and in outlining them said that the next would be on the third Thursday in May, and that the meeting in June would be to hear from the National convention that would be held in Atlanta, Ga. He also announced that the association would hold a picnic some time during the summer.

Frank E. Kiefer of Central National bank was called upon to present the cup which the Portsmouth association won for the second time at the State Convention held a few days ago at Cincinnati. This is the second time that the Portsmouth Association has won the cup for attendance at the state convention and they are justly proud of it. Mr. Kiefer was a member of the delegation that first brought the cup here, and he was also one of the men who helped to bring it back again. If it comes to Portsmouth again it becomes the property of the local association. But the warning was sounded that other organizations of the state would likely make a strong pull for it next year.

Albert Graf gave in brief a report from the Babson service telling of the business conditions at present and the outlook for the future. According to his report, the outlook is very good up until the late fall, but he brought out that it would "not be wise to look farther ahead than that time."

The various men present who made up the Cincinnati Delegation, R. W. Goddard, E. H. Hammer, T. E. Lanier, Philip Pfarr, Geo. Woodward, Carl Smith, Chas. Baker and C. E. Dowling made reports, the one by Dowling being the most lengthy as he represented the association officially at the state meeting.

Mr. Dowling's report was well received and he was prepared for the questions that were asked him at the close which showed that he had made a careful study of his notes and had observed well the things that transpired at the state meeting.

Geo. Woodward of Bradstreet company's local office was called upon and gave out some information of real value to the local credit men, calling attention to the fact that in the immediate vicinity of Portsmouth and within the past four months, 135 new stores had sprung up. He also stated that statistics show that 70 percent of the stores started fail within the first year.

Before the meeting closed the secretary B. A. Leclercq was elected to represent the local organization at the National meeting to be held at Atlanta, Ga., June 15-16.

After giving Mrs. Evans, manager of the Bluebird Inn a vote of thanks for the splendid service and chicken dinner, the association adjourned to meet again the third Thursday in May.

Members and visitors present included: C. M. Howland, R. W. Goddard, B. A. Leclercq, John Neudorfer, Jas. D. Breese, Wallace Drew, Forest Williams, Richard Kendall, Ed Ross, J. M. Graham, W. C. Ferguson, J. J. Rardin, Ray Griver, John Snyder, Frank Stanton, Frank Kiefer, Allen Slattery, C. P. Stenby, Carl Smith, W. D. Hoss, Frank Balmert, J. C. Mackoy, C. A. Glockner, Geo. Woodward, E. H. Things Seen In Portsmouth

Twenty-four Years Ago

Newton Phillips left of the steamer Keystone State for Pittsburgh to resume his studies in optics.

Spring Lane Distilling Company received a number of nice orders, one from a Rochester firm for 450 barrels and another from a Cleveland firm for 250 barrels.

Arrangements were made to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the German Evangelical Church, Fifth and Washington streets.

The first car of steel shipped from the new Burgess mill at Yorktown, left Portsmouth over the N. & W. The car was consigned to Colonel James Kilbourne, Columbus, and was the first installment of a big order he placed with the mill.

James A. Cleaver was appointed court stenographer by Judge Miller for a term of three years.

A case of accidental shooting occurred at the saloon of George Hodges on Eleventh street, when Lou Miller, the bar keeper, went after his gun to bluff a wild man who was on the war path and shot himself in the foot.

Prominent attorney in office building, holding pretty stenographer's hand.

Youngster on Second street, not over four pulling away at a snipe.

Two high school boys devouring cream rolls and doughnuts while walking along the main drag.

Kids lying in the street just to see how close motorists would drive without running over them.

Two flappers getting in car on Gallia street with a much married man.

Board To Meet

Several important matters will be considered at the regular meeting of the school board, tonight. It will be held at 7:30 in Supt. Frank Appel's office.

LONELY WOMAN—They never join the society mentioned, but if they are members of one before becoming a member of the other, they need not drop out. There is no objection to the second one you mentioned. They are probably working together with that aim in view in some parts of the country, but they might as well cease their efforts as they will never succeed. A man of 70 who will go with a girl of 25 has reached the childish age and is not responsible for what he is doing. I don't imagine the girl is all there either.

Millions depend on S.S.S. to purify their Blood

SINCE the days of the Cherokee Indians, man has relied upon nature to produce certain herbs and roots to purify the blood. Today, the manufacturers of S. S. S. gather thousands of tons of these certain herbs and roots usually and prepare in concentrated form, scientifically proportioned, that great blood purifier, called S. S. S. This is why S. S. S. since 1859, has been such a great success. It has meant to millions of weak, ailing men and women a plan to their strength. S. S. S. builds blood.

S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again

WHISPERING SAGE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Acklin, big boss of the Double A ranch, and Bodine, new owner of the old Webster place, rob the Basques of Paradise Valley of their water supply. Acklin secretly builds a dam and cuts off the water from Bodine's ranch. For revenge, Bodine plots with the Basques to blow up the dam. Mercedes Arrascaeta, through her little blind brother, Basilio, hears of a mysterious trip taken by her brother Esteban. Mercedes follows Esteban immediately.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY

Catching up her skirts, she fled to the barn. Scattered about on the floor were the remains of half a dozen empty boxes. They had been broken open hurriedly and left without any attempt at concealment. Mercedes' eyes widened in horror at the screaming letters printed on their sides and ends. Esteban's going now explained itself. This was why he had not taken Basilio. He was not going to Kings River. Uncle Peter had dynamite of his own for any need he might find.

She followed the tracks of the wheels until they turned into the dim road that led to the northwest. That way did not lead to town, or to the crossing into the Kings. It went to Webster Creek. Bodine!

Ten torturing minutes of worry increased her nervousness until her body rebelled at inaction. Whatever his motive, she was certain that Esteban had gone to Bodine's ranch. With sudden resolve, she determined to follow him. A word to Teresa about Basilio and she was gone.

It took her more than two hours to reach the Webster place. No one met her as she rode up. She called aloud several times but got no answer. This, and the fact that she had trailed the buckboard right to the ranch yard, only increased her feeling of alarm.

She sat down to wait. Again inaction assailed her and she began walking up and down the path that led to the barns. Bit by bit she increased the distance she was covering in her excitement, until her horse brought her to the doors of the old building. Her breath left her as she caught sight of the wagon Esteban had driven. A glance showed her it was empty.

Through an open door in the rear she saw her brother's team in the corral.

Mercedes scanned the ground between the barn and the corral, trying to read signs in the dry sand. She came upon the fresh trail of

Explains How Enlarged Veins Can Be Reduced

Often Times Veins Burst and Cause Much Suffering, Expense and Loss of Employment

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and blemishes. If you will get a two ounce original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) at any first class drug store and apply it as herein directed you will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and blemishes are normal.

Moore's Emerald Oil is a very concentrated and lasts a long time—this is why it is a most inexpensive treatment. It has brought much comfort to worried people over the country and is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and always bear in mind that anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded. "Tiz" Gladdens Sore, Tired Feet

"TIZ" makes, sort, burning, tired feet fairly dance with delight. Away go the aches and pains, the corns, callouses, blisters and bunions.

"Tiz" draws out the acids and poisons that puff up your feet. No matter how hard you work, how long you dance, how far you walk, or how long you remain on your feet, "TIZ" brings restful foot comfort. "TIZ" is wonderful for tired, aching, swollen, smarting feet. Your feet just tingle with joy; shoes never hurt or seem tight.

Get a box of "TIZ" now from your druggist or department store. Had foot torture forever—wear smaller shoes, keep your feet fresh, sweet and happy.

about bodine's arts." "You're too funny, Bodine," she was ripped back at him. "I tell you this thing is all off!" "Who says so?" "I do!"

Esteban beat him to the nearest rifle.

"Put that gun down; it's loaded," Buck said carefully.

"You heard me," the boy's tense face did not relax. "I tell you this thing's off!"

Bodine began to believe him. "You don't mean it?"

SIX O'CLOCK FOUND HER SEVERAL MILES BEYOND THE CANYON GATE. THE PACE SHE FOLLOWED WAS SWIFT.

"I mean it all right, Bodine. My people are down there! The Rancho will get it worse than any other place. This deal is off until I get them out!"

"I ain't got no objection to that," he cried. "Get 'em out! It won't take three of us to push this raft off. You two beat it back and get your folks away. I'll stay here."

"Oh, no, you won't," Esteban did not raise his voice. "I'm not taking any chance on you. Once we get out of sight you'd let her go, and get out of here on the jump. I'll be staying!"

"That's suits me! But listen: don't you lose your nerve in these God-awful hills when we're gone. I'll bust you if it's the last thing I do if you double-cross me."

"That goes two ways, Bodine! You fail me, and I'll kill you in spite of hell. Romero, you go with him as far as his ranch. He'll take you there; if he pulls a gun on you, plug him. I'll wait until the moon comes up before I shove off the raft. You have plenty of time to make it. You get Mercedes and Basilio into the hills. God have mercy on you if you don't. You better get along now."

They walked to their horses. Romero waited for Bodine to move ahead. Buck stopped for a brief word.

"You be on the level with me tonight, Arrascaeta, and I'll be square with you. I'll see that the Senorita and the kid are all right."

Esteban watched without moving until they were out of sight. Before him were the longest hours of his life in various ways he tried to beguile himself into believing that all was well. As time went on, his torture increased; but the agony he was enduring was as nothing compared to the sufferings of the girl who was searching for him.

The long twilight had faded at last; and with the suddenness of a drawn curtain, darkness closed down upon the hushed world. The night sounds of the wild beat against her ears with the passing of an hour. Her pony stumbled repeatedly.

She determined to leave the horse behind. Removing his bridle, she left him to wander home as best he could. The pinto whinnied as she moved away in the blackness.

Her dress was soon torn to tatters; her limbs scratched and bleeding. More than once she missed her footing and came crashing down on jagged stumps or sharp roots.

The last time this happened she felt her ankle, and her hand came up wet with blood. Mercedes lay where she had fallen, waiting for the strength to rise. She listened in vain for the murmur of the water. She was lost. She wanted to cry out; but she opened her mouth the first time, and no sound came. With supreme courage she forced herself to her feet. She tried calling again and this time her voice rang out among the trees. The sound of it reassured her. She repeated her cry. It hung on in the stillness.

STOMACH MISERY CEASES AFTER TAKING KA-DI-OK

MR. LEROY MCKINLEY, COLUMBUS, OHIO

Well-Known Mechanic, Formerly in the U. S. Navy, Tells How He Regained His Health.

Mr. Leroy McKinley living at 1189 Parsons Avenue, Columbus, a machinist with the Jeffrey Manufacturing Company, who was in active service in the U. S. Navy for sixteen months on the "Columbia," is very grateful for his recovery from an obstinate case of stomach trouble, for which he gives Ka-di-ok full credit. In a recent signed statement handed by him to the Ka-di-ok expert, he says: "I was in very bad shape from stomach trouble; everything I ate seemed to ferment and caused me to feel miserable all the time. I lost considerable weight and was weak and discouraged. After trying several remedies without getting any better, I was advised to try Ka-di-ok. I am grateful to say that it has helped me wonderfully. My food digests perfectly and I no longer have that miserable sensation after eating. I have gained some weight and am strong and healthy. Personally, I do not think that there could be any better remedy for stomach trouble than Ka-di-ok. I heartily recommend it to any one who suffers as I did."

Ka-di-ok can be obtained in Portsmouth at Fisher & Streich's Drug Store.—Advertisement.

Dunkham Injured When Hit By Auto

Roy Dunkham, brother of Sheriff Harry Dunkham, sustained a badly bruised right shoulder and arm yesterday when he was struck and knocked down by an automobile driven by an unknown man as he started to cross Chillicothe street at Eleventh, on leaving the Rockham ice plant.

The machine, which is said to be going to a Canton man, was traveling north on Chillicothe street at a high speed. It is claimed, and the motorist never halted after the car hit Dunkham, but instead sped up and made his escape.

The injured man was attended by Dr. George Martin and then sent to his home.

Red Men Meet This Evening

The applications of eight palettes seeking membership will be voted upon by Seneca tribe, Red Men, at its regular meeting tonight when the committee on the membership drive is expected to make a complete report on the arrangements made with tribes at Ironton, Waverly and other nearby cities for a monster demonstration and class initiation to be held in this city early in June.

At the close of the meeting tonight the members and their friends will enjoy a euchre party.

Class Organizes

The "Queen Esther's," a class of Junior girls of the Allen Chapel Sunday School, taught by Mrs. Martha Valentine, 1114 Gay street, met at the home of the teacher yesterday afternoon and organized by electing the following officers:

President—Magdalen Richardson.
Vice-President—Frances Nichols.
Secretary—Lulu Valentine.
Treasurer—Geraldine Richardson.

Besides the above named, those present were: Esther May Fasset, Louella Hollingsworth, Louise Hollingsworth and Helen Randall.

John H. Jackson, superintendent of the Sunday School, made a short talk to the girls, explaining to them the work of organized classes.

Flower Thieves Are Getting Busy In City Again

No sooner has the flower season been ushered in than the flower thief, the meanest kind of a thief, begins to get in his work. One last night raided Mrs. Teresa Gels' bed of tulips in the yard of her home, 1523 Ninth street. The thief took roots and all.

Davidson Promoted

The Chillicothe Gazette says: Official changes in the personnel of the local offices of the Ohio Division of the B. & O. R. R. announced on Thursday, included the promotion of Assistant Division Engineer A. M. Davidson to be Assistant Train Master. Mr. Davidson resides at Bridge and Main streets.

The Sunday School Lesson

RUTH, THE FAITHFUL DAUGHTER

BY R. S. BALSIGER

The Book of Ruth gives us one of the most beautiful stories in the Bible. One expositor comments as follows:

Jeremy Taylor described this book of Ruth as a precious jewel lying between the carmine of the Judges and the purple of the Kings. It is quite unlike the hero tales of Judges and the warlike records of the Kings. It is better than history; an idyllic tale of ancient village life, delightful domestic relations, the fortunes of humble farmers, etc. Sadness and sweetness shadow and sunshine, death, marriage, and birth, meet in its pages. Its central charm is its heroine, the youngest of three desolate widows. It is a little window of literature through which we look at a lovely landscape of a primitive story. It is a fair, womanly form adding human beauty to the scene. No biblical figure in the Old Testament is more faultless in character or more lovely in life.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Promotes Food Fermentation, Sour Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried pepto, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief. But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little Bisulphate of Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, or milk, but the pure Bisulphate of Magnesia which you can obtain from any drugist in either powdered or tablet form. Take a teaspoonful of the powder or three compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference it makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment, sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated, or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most over-eating.

You will find that provided you take a little Bisulphate of Magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and moreover, the continued use of the Bisulphate of Magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are symptoms of acid indigestion. —Advertisement.

JACKSON

JACKSON, (Margaret Miller)—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian church held their regular monthly meeting in the basement of the church Tuesday evening. The committee in charge was composed of Mesdames Henry White, Grant E. Jank, Wes Steel, Mack Jacobs and Frank Jacobs. Thirty-eight members and five visitors were present. An item of importance during the business session was the decision to donate to the Christian Endeavor Society the sum of fifty dollars, to be used for their obligation for the church building fund. During the social hour refreshments of ice cream cake and coffee were served. All the members of the class are urged to be present on next Sunday as it will be the last Sunday that Rev. Zuck will be present. Rev. Zuck and daughter, Frances will start on their trip to California on Monday morning. Local People Prominently Cast In Little Theatre Play

LEO KRICKER AND MRS. BEULAH NORRIS

Who will be prominently cast in "The Maker of Dreams," one of the three plays to be presented in the High School Auditorium Tomorrow night by The Little Theatre Members

Occupying a prominent spot in the program of three plays to be given on Saturday evening by the Little Theatre is the "Maker of Dreams" which is presented for the first time on any stage in southern Ohio. Mrs. Beulah Norris plays the role of Pierrot, while Leo Kricker plays the part of Pierrot, the discontented lover and travelling player. Bert Leach appears to advantage in the title role as the Maker of Dreams.

Going back to the tomb of King Tut is a long way from the Little Theatre of today, but that is what H. G. Stahel, designer of costumes, for the Little Theatre of Portsmouth, did when she fashioned the head dress which Mrs. Norris will wear in this production.

When the tomb of the Egyptian monarch was excavated, one of the most beautiful bits of jewelry which either the ancient or modern world has seen was an ancient head dress, constructed of rare pearls of peculiar luster. Taking this head dress as a model, Miss Stahl fashioned a head dress for Mrs. Norris almost upon the same motif as that discovered in the Egyptian tomb.

The dress of Pierrot while entirely an original creation of Miss Stahl's is fashioned upon the ballet gowns used by former strolling players in France, and also is the same pattern as adopted by the "Comedie Francaise."

The costume of Leo Kricker, who plays Pierrot is entirely original by Miss Stahl, but the pattern upon which they have been originated is a faithful reproduction of the French costume. The Maker of Dreams will be played by Bert Leach and is indeed, strikingly different, in that it shows a deep insight into his knowledge of human nature.

Special scenery for this production has been built by Richard Taylor.

Repeat Picture Tonight

The illustrated lecture given at Calvary Baptist church last Tuesday night by Rev. L. N. Karser on "Baptist Work in the Foreign Field" will be repeated tonight. The public is invited. A silver offering will be taken.

Completes Trip

NEW YORK, April 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Ending his tour of America, Lord Robert Cecil, League of Nations' champion, today expressed before an audience here, a wish that some great power would ask the league to intervene in the Ruhr.

He said that the time was ripe for the league to take up discussion of the Ruhr situation, the reparations questions involved, and the demands of France that her safety be definitely and specifically guaranteed by the other major powers.

May Place Orders For Oil Engines

The Manchester Signal says: Capt. E. D. Suter and J. C. Henderson have gone to Cincinnati and Muncie, Ind., where they will investigate the relative merits of the different makes of semi-Diesel oil engines with a view to placing oil engines on the new tow boat that the Suter Bros. are building here and a possibility of the adoption of oil engine power by the Manchester Furniture Co.

Better Your Home

Better it because you want to give your loved ones the kind of home furnishings which will not only provide real comfort today but that will instill into them an appreciation of the better things of life. The surroundings in which you live have a great deal to do with character development and to make yours a better home from a furnishing standpoint is to take a step that will not only give you personally added pride and enjoyment in your home but will directly effect for the better the present and future ideals of the younger generation in your home. Why delay the transformation of your home when prices are so low and our stock affords such a vast selection of all that is new and good in the type of furnishings that will truly better your home?

Reliability First Of All

With this store the slogan "Reliability First Of All" is not merely an advertising phrase to be carelessly used. On the contrary, our business is organized on a basis that provides the widest possible variety of new things for selection, unusual care that what we offer in merchandise shall measure up to the highest quality standards, and prices that afford the utmost in value for your money. Back of this idea of real service is our guarantee that if anything we sell you fails to make good for you, we will make good to you.

Helping To Finance Better Homes

Realizing that not everybody has sufficient ready cash to furnish a new home in the style they desire—or to refurnish an old home in the modern way, we have evolved a very dignified and helpful credit plan which is enabling hundreds of families to enjoy the better things of life while paying for them in convenient terms. By far the largest number of homes, automobiles, etc., are bought on credit, so why not properly furnish your home in the same convenient manner? Come in and let us explain our system in detail.

Earl Faivre Heads Excelsior Foremen

Annual election of officers was held by the Excelsior Superintendents' and Foremen's Association at the April meeting of the organization Thursday at 4:30 p. m.

Earl Faivre was elected president to succeed Paul Dupuy. The other officers are: Vice-President, Robert Lannon; Secretary, Louis P. Weiss; Treasurer, Franklin Gopp; Sergeant-at-Arms, Brooks Gundy; Trustees, Paul Dupuy, H. C. Ricker and Harry Flowers. The new officers will take charge at the May meeting. The retiring officers made short talks in which they thanked the members of the organization for the hearty support and co-operation given them during the past year. President Earl Faivre in a response said that he would do all in his power to give the Association service that will place it among the busy industrial organizations of that city.

Short talks on "Sheet System" by James D. Williams and "Meeting Production Aims" by Edward Ricker closed the meeting.

STARTS FIRE; PAINFULLY BURNED

RIPLEY, O., April 27.—Recently, while rekindling a fire in the cook stove, Miss Thelma, daughter of Mr. Mrs. Smith and family recently moved here from Portsmouth, and burned on the right arm and neck, her hair being also singed. She used kerosene oil in starting the fire. Mr. and Mrs. Smith and family recently moved here from Portsmouth, and is employed as engineer on the ferry.

Are Held To Grand Jury

Charles Puckett, Sciotoville tinner, and Tracy Dadds, Mt. Joy young man, were bound over to the U. S. grand jury under $2500 bond each by U. S. Commissioner J. F. Johnley Friday when they appeared and waived examination. Both furnished bond and were released from custody.

Purse Snatcher Again Busy; Mrs. Staten Latest Victim

A hand carved leather pocketbook containing $7 formed the loot obtained by a purse snatcher Wednesday night about 8:15 when Mrs. Wendell Staten of 1416 Ninth street was the victim. The purse snatching occurred on Gallia street just west of Moulton Place while Mrs. Staten accompanied by her daughter, Pauline, were on their way to a picture show. The man came from behind them, suddenly grabbed the pocketbook and disappeared south on Sinton street.

The description of the man given by Mrs. Staten tallies with that of the man who grabbed Mrs. Henry Rader's purse Tuesday night at Grand and Officer streets. The man wore a dark suit and cap and appeared youthful.

Violet Day At Second Church Sunday; American Legion Invited for Evening Worship

Sunday will be "Violet Day" at the Second Presbyterian Church, and every member of the Sunday school and the church is urged to be present and enjoy this feature—emblematic of the Spirit of Spring. Violets are to be distributed to all who attend. Rev. Hugh I. Evans has planned to reflect the spirit of the day and season in his morning sermon, choosing for his theme: "The Garden of Awakening Life." Solomon's Song 2:11, 12.

At the evening services Rev. Evans has chosen for the theme of his sermon: "Prosperity Through Love," Psalm 122:6, a subject emphasizing patriotism, and a special invitation is extended to members of the American Legion to attend the evening services and hear the sermon.

An anthem will be rendered during the music at the evening services, "Light At Evening Time"—Staults, and another feature will be a quartet composed of Messrs. Harry Denton, H. W. C. Mehlum, T. C. Lloyd and Mendell Jones, singing "Cradle Song" by Kinder.

Music at the morning service will be featured by two anthems; Prof. Elmer Ende, choir-master, and organist, continuing his program of splendid anthems so much enjoyed by the congregations: "I Am Alpha and Omega"—Stainer, and "Sweet Is Thy Mercy"—Barby, will be rendered by the choir at the morning service.

What's This! 100 Pigs To Be "Butchered" At The U. B. Sunday School Next Sunday

One hundred "pigs" are to be butchered at the United Brethren Sunday School Sunday.

The above announcement will probably arouse the curiosity of a number of folk who have never heard of a "butchered" in a Sunday school, but its going to be done.

The "pigs" have been living in great style for some time past, but Sunday their days of feasting will be over at least for a few hours.

These pigs are not the kind which thrive like most pigs do, on corn, but instead they thrive by being fed on all sorts of coins—copper, silver and even gold.

Here's the secret. Several weeks ago Clyde C. Coulter, Field Secretary of the American Mission to the lepers, visited the local church and told of the work being done in the colony of American lepers in Louisiana. So interesting was his story, and desiring to be of some help in the great work being done, the church immediately took steps to do their bit.

Mr. Coulter then told of the Golden Gate Bank Brigade and the work they are doing. Miss Helena Adams and Mrs. Floyd Smith were appointed "pig ladies" of the church, and 100 pigs, all named Pete, were ordered and distributed among the organizations and members of the Bible school and church.

The opening of these pigs Sunday will be quite interesting and no doubt a large sum of money to be used in the Louisiana colony will be raised. All those having pigs are urged to bring them to the Bible School session at 9 o'clock Sunday.

Fear Mob Hide Prisoner

ROME, GA., April 27.—(By the United Press.)—Fearing a mob would catch the state of the right to take the life of George Baker, the sheriff spirited the youth to Lafayette on the dawn of his execution day. Announcement was made here after prison had been reached early that the hanging would take place between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. on day in the Lafayette jail yard. Members of the family had just reached the last family prayer had been held in the morning. Death will here when Sheriff E. E. Wilson led Baker to a waiting motor car and dashed away while a small group of townspeople gathered outside the jail on the dawn of his execution day. Announcement was made here after 15, whose death sentence was commuted to life, began to be taken away and continued his demand that he be given the privilege of dying on the gallows with his brother. "I am the one who killed him," he was as he demanded that he pay the penalty for the murder of a deputy sheriff. "George didn't have a pistol. If either of us is hanged, it should be me," he said.

Members of the family planned to leave this morning for Lafayette with the exception of the 14-year-old wife of George, who pleaded that she be allowed to remain here until the noon had ended the life of her husband of 18 months.

George Baker was calm and composed when deputies hustled him out of his cell this morning. He was resigned to his fate and declared he was determined not to flinch. A desperate last minute attempt to save George's life was made last night when attorneys went before Judge Wright with a motion for a stay of execution on the ground that the youth would have to be hanged before he could be executed. The petition was denied.

Forest Fires Burn, Uncontrolled

A heavy fall of smoke hung over Portsmouth all day Friday from forest fires in Kentucky, eastern Indiana, Lawrence and Galia counties which have been burning for many days. This artificial darkening of the sky is most expensive and unfortunate to the timberland owners, and the loss has undoubtedly amounted to many thousands of dollars. There are no fire wardens or any other public provision for the protection of these lands, and the local residents seem to be indolgent or unequal to the task of stopping the fires. So far as is known, all fires in the organized territory in southern Ohio have been extinguished, although new fires are to be expected from careless handling of brush and other fires. Owing to the light winds the fire wardens have experienced serious difficulty with the fires in organized districts. Smokers, brush-burners and others using fire in the woods during the next few days should use extreme care, or they are likely unintentionally to cause tremendous losses in our local woodlands.

Abused Billy

Uncle Billy is getting old and abandoned. One day Aunt Sally, his wife, noticed that he was roaming round from room to room. Presently he called to her from the kitchen. "Sally, have you seen my pipe?"

"No, Billy," she answered. "Can't you find it?"

"No, I can't," he replied rather crossly. "I've looked upstairs and all over, and I can't find it."

"Didn't you leave it in the bathroom?" asked Aunt Sally.

"No, I didn't. I've looked there. Come and look yourself."

As Aunt Sally laid down her paper she heard him laugh. "Have you found it, Billy?" she asked.

"Yes," he replied. "It was in my mouth."

WILL FACE CHARGE IN DAYTON

Taken into custody at an up-town hotel by the police yesterday on statutory charges, a woman giving her name as Mary Eaton was later released on bond while her companion who gave the name of C. A. Elliott was turned over to an officer from Dayton, who returned the prisoner to the City today to answer to a charge of non support of his minor children. The woman failed to appear for trial Friday and her bond was declared forfeited.

Bill Car No. 2 Is In The City

Bill Car No. 2 of the Hageneck-Wallace circus was sighted here Friday and bill posters are hustling uncovered spots to put up their colorful literature. The big tented show is here Friday, May 4, and will show on the Seventeenth street lot.

When the Garret-Dwellers Frolic

The general conception of Greenwich Village inhabitants is that they are a lot of studious, garret-dwelling artists, authors and actors. But here's a glimpse of what the Playboys Ball will be like. Miss Nadya, Beau-Droc (left) as a South American maiden, and Miss Peggy Martin, as King Tut's sister.

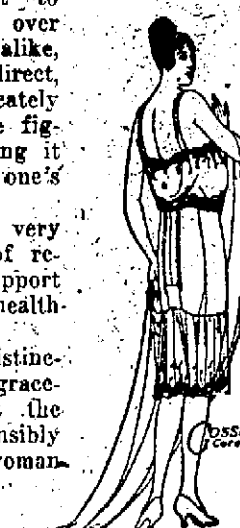

Have you read "The Portrait of a Gentlewoman"? It is Jane Hill's newest and most interesting help to beauty, better appearance and real comfort. Copies are free, in the corset department.

Why We Recommend Gossard Corsets

The Gossard Corset of today aims, not to make all women over and make them alike, but rather to direct, mould and delicately repropportion the figure so as to bring it into line with one's own type ideal; —to provide the very lightest degree of restraint and support consistent with health and poise; —to offer that distinctive style and graceful comfort that the good taste of sensibly dressed gentlewoman demands.

And these superior corsets are fairly priced—from $2.50 upward. It will pay you to see what our corsetiere can do for you.

Let us show you the new Longerlyne Brassieres. They have extra length and special shaping and will never slip up over the top of the lowest corset. And they cost no more than the usual kind.

Peerless! It's Really Delicious

There's no doubt it looks good, but it tastes even better — and it's going some if that's the case!

Peerless Ice Cream is really delicious and appetizing. It's because it's made of the purest ingredients and made in a most sanitary ice cream plant.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Wanner Taylor
Death about eight o'clock this morning claimed Mrs. Frances McCorkle Taylor, wife of Wanner Taylor of McDermott, the final summons coming at her home in that village. She had been ill more than a week with measles and pneumonia. The children of the home have just recovered from measles and the mother nursed them through their illness successfully only to develop the malady herself and die from it.

Mrs. Taylor was about 27 years of age and in addition to her husband she leaves three children, Margie G. Elmer 4 and Harold 2. Her parents and several brothers and sisters reside at Black Fork.

The deceased had resided in McDermott for several years and had won many friends there by her amiability.

Funeral services will be held probably Sunday.

Lemon Funeral

Funeral services were held this afternoon at one o'clock for Mrs. Lettie Lemon, who died Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jacob Rase, at Vernon this county. F. R. Bachman of this city was in charge of the last rites held at the Rase home. Burial was at Vernon.

Mrs. T. E. Gilmer

Mrs. Frank Gilmer of Scoto Trail has returned from Roanoke, where she was called to attend the funeral of her sister, Mrs. Nellie Olive Gilmer, wife of T. E. Gilmer of 1808 Patterson avenue, Roanoke, who died Sunday morning, after an illness of several weeks' duration. Funeral services were held Monday from the Methodist church with Rev. John S. Vines in charge.

The deceased leaves her husband, a daughter Irene, her mother Mrs. Ella Jeter of Roanoke and two sisters, Mrs. Roscoe Turner of Roanoke and Mrs. Frank Gilmer. Mrs. T. E. Gilmer formerly resided in this city and had many friends here who will be sorry to learn of her death.

Lettie Elizabeth Beckman Lemon
The many friends of Mrs. Lemon were sorry to learn of the passing away of this good woman who had been in her usual health until she was stricken by paralysis on Tuesday evening.

she was the daughter of Abram and Susan Beckman and was born

McKay Buys Out Partner

Through a deal closed Thursday, C. T. McKay became the sole owner of the Make-Fine stove plant at 329 Front street. He purchased the interest of Otto Frese, who was associated in the business. McKay intends to continue the business of manufacturing Make-Fine gas ranges. He has been the salesman for the firm, selling stoves in Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia. Mr. Frese is undecided as to his future plans.

Couple Meet; Row; Bam

When Floyd Jamison, 28, of 522 Second street, was arraigned in Municipal court Friday on a complaint made by his wife, Mertie Jamison, accusing him of assaulting her, he denied guilt and he was released on $500 bond pending preliminary hearing next Monday.

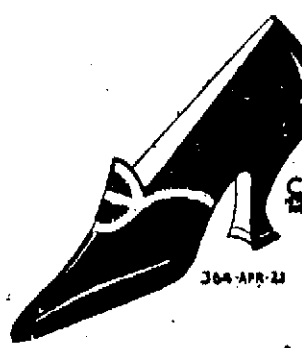

The couple have been separated for some time and they quarreled when they met in the West End yesterday and the wordy war led to a personal encounter. One accused the other of causing the trouble. Attorneys Blair and Blair will defend Jamison.

Plans Nearly Done

Architects Devoss and Donaldson are completing plans for the new building the Bragdon Drygoods company will erect on Chillicothe street. The plans will soon be ready for the contractors. The building is to be fireproof in construction.

The Strand

The last word in correct shoe making and style, fully describes this creation — not a freak, but a right up to the minute slipper, made of either patent cloth or velvet, kid, hand turned, small tongue and the new Grecian heel. You will walk with comfort and confidence in a pair of the — a comfort that comes from correct fitting and firm support and supple leather; a confidence that springs from a consciousness that shoe is smartly shod.

Whiskey-Making Trio May Be Arraigned Late Today; Vats Burned On Morris Lawn

Pending the arrival of a U. S. marshal from Cincinnati, who will file specific charges of manufacturing, selling and transporting whiskey against Richard and Allen Walker of Cattedburg and H. B. Morris of Twenty-Third street, these men caught in a raid on the Morris home, continued Friday to occupy cells in the county jail. With the arrival of the U. S. Marshal they will be arraigned before U. S. Commissioner J. F. Johnley.
The U. S. Marshal was expected to reach the city late this afternoon over the C. & O.
Hundreds of people last night and today motored to the Morris home in the hopes of getting a glimpse of the gigantic still confiscated in the sensational raid. The express vats, in which the mash was made were torn apart yesterday afternoon and were burned on the front lawn of the Morris home.

Milford Keyes, Dean Of Local Newspapermen, Dies In Cincinnati; Funeral Here Saturday

Milford Keyes, venerable newspaperman and for years an eccentric character in Portsmouth, passed away Friday morning in the General Hospital, Cincinnati, where he was admitted several days ago.
Mr. Keyes, who was 82 years old, left Portsmouth about two weeks ago and since then all trace of him had been lost until a message was received today conveying the news of his death in the Cincinnati hospital. He had been suffering from infirmities of age for sometime and was in an enfeebled condition when he left Portsmouth. He was a veteran of the Civil War, was a man who kept abreast with the times and was a gifted writer, having for years contributed ably written articles for local papers. While he possessed a reserved disposition and never thrust himself in any company, he had many warm friends here who will sincerely regret to learn of his passing away. He had been a life-long resident of Portsmouth and he had unabiding faith in the Peerless City. He had never married.
Mr. Keyes was the dean of the local newspaper fraternity and for twenty years was city editor of the Weekly Times and later was actively identified with The Daily Times under the managements of the late Hon. James W. Newman, J. L. Patterson and the present owners, Messrs. H. E. Taylor and Valtee Harold. Mr. Keyes had a unique way of handling news, possessed a wonderful memory as well as vocabulary, and had he gone into the magazine field there would have been no question about him making good.
Mr. Keyes was a cousin of Judge Frank L. Sikes of Sciotoville and Miss Clementine Sikes of the Hilltop.
His body is expected to reach the city late tonight and will be conveyed to the Windel funeral parlors on Offshore street, where the last rites of this gifted, brave, soldier and honorable citizen will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. Friends are invited to the services. Interment will be in Greenlawn.

Will Inspect Peerless Camp

Inspection of Peerless Camp, No. 79, Spanish War Veterans, and annual Muster Day exercises will be held tonight by the S. W. V., at the public library basement, at eight o'clock. This Muster Day will commemorate the 25th anniversary of the starting of the war between the United States and Spain.
Past Commander Edward Zeek. Music during the evening will be furnished by the Sciotoville High School orchestra and at the close of the evening refreshments will be served by the Ladies' Auxiliary.
All comrades are urged to be present for the exercises and are all asked to wear their badges.

His Occupation

The electrician was repairing the radio set in our home and Johnny and Frank were industriously watching the progress of the work. The electrician took two short pieces of wire and compared their lengths.
"What's he doing?" asked Johnny.
"Oh, he's measuring the short circuits," replied Frank.—Exchange.

Measles Over At Home; Now For The Circus

Forty-one convalescent cases of measles, the circus a week away, and all's well at the Children's Home. Some time ago a single case of measles was contracted by one of the Home children and the disease spread until 41 were victims. Under the care of Supt. G. W. Howes and his assistants the children got along exceptionally well and all but three have recovered without a single complication developing. Three of the smaller children now have the measles, which will mark the end of the disease, for the present at least, at the Home. All of the children are rejoicing that the epidemic was over before the coming circus next Friday, as they are to attend the big production as the guests of the Portsmouth Shrine club, and are anticipating a big day.
Supt. Howes reports that 65 of the children are now in school.

Invade Ironton

Sunday, May 6th

Sunday, May 6th, is the date set for the big W. O. W. class demonstration to be held in Ironton. The work will be put on by the New Boston and South Portsmouth teams, assisted by River City Camp. This will close the drive in honor of Burckett and Edgington, of South Portsmouth. The committee will charter a car on the traction line and all will go in a body. Ashland has secured the district encampments of the uniform rank July 23rd to 28th.

$50.00 Will Put You in Possession of One of the Prettiest Home Sites on the Scioto Trail

And this is not like many a proposition that's put up to you frequently—a small payment down and a continual drain on your income for years to come. $50.00 down and $1.00 a week will pay for your lot at Clifford in less than three years. Or if you prefer $180.00 cash pays for a lot 50x165 ft. These 50 foot lots sell for $180.00 to $270.00 according to location — or if you want larger lots you may have them. Compare these prices with those asked for city lots. Compare the advantages—the disadvantages.

NOTE THESE DEADLY PARALLELS

CITY

As advertised in the Sunday Sun-Times, March 18, 1923.

1 "Nice vacant lot on Kinney Lane, 40x165, $3100."

2 At $50.00 and $1.00 a week it would require 3050 weeks or 60 YEARS TO PAY FOR IT.

3 Somebody will soon have or now has a home across the street to spoil your view.

4 Your lot and yard are so small that the children must play in the streets.

5 If the world's great economists are correct city residential values are about at their peak and soon will begin to go backward.

6 In the city you are completely out of touch with nature, the sunshine, the fresh air. Your home is more like a prison, walled in on all sides with some demand upon your purse and time at every turn.

COUNTRY

As offered you today scarcely 25 minutes farther from your work—a nice lot at:

1 Clifford 40x165 ft. $180.00

At $50 DOWN AND $1 A WEEK.

2 It would require 110 weeks or two years and 6 weeks to pay.

3 Nobody ever can build in front of you on one of these Clifford sites.

4 At Clifford they have acres and acres of meadows and woods in which to roam.

5 On the other hand suburban residential sites are now lower than they ever will be again and they will go up in price rapidly.

6 At Clifford you may enjoy your week ends and evenings fishing, swimming, picking berries, in the garden, working with the chickens, gathering nuts, boating on the Scioto—resting in peace and quiet.

"PRESIDENT HARDING PLANS RETURNING TO OLD HOME FARM"

Headlines in Columbus Dispatch of April 5th.

BABE RUTH SPENT WINTER ON HIS FARM CHOPPING WOOD

You too can own your own little farm, and still keep in the closest touch with your business. Probably neither President Harding nor Babe Ruth will actually farm any—it's the outdoor life they want—and thousands—yes millions of other Americans are beginning to realize that it's more sensible, more economical, and more desirable in every way to live at least a large part of each year in the country.

So when you are thinking of that vacation this summer—that trip you are planning perhaps—or at least you are already beginning to yearn for it—just think about investing that money in a PERMANENT VACATION SPOT. You can have and enjoy your vacation just as much and very probably MORE, and not lose a dollar—because you are INVESTING MONEY instead of SPENDING IT. This kind of a vacation will pay DIVIDENDS in dollars and cents—and real happiness.

While no land will be sold Sunday, everyone is welcome to visit the farm on that or any other day. Remember the farm is 3 miles north of Lucasville and the north line is near the high water tank at Clifford and extends south about one-half mile to the first fence running across the bottoms. Sites are being sold on both sides of the Trail. On the hillside and in the bottoms. Agents—Clyde Brant, Lucasville, Office Phone 4500 R, Residence 4500 L. Glen Rardin, Portsmouth, Phone 1685 Y.

153,000 Fans Attend Opening Games

NEW YORK, April 27.—An aggregate total of approximately 153,000 baseball fans witnessed yesterday the opening games in six major league cities, four in the American and two in the National. The teams opened the season away from home and had just returned from the road.

Attendance honors went to Detroit where 36,000 persons, seeing the home team lose a hard fought game to St. Louis 4 to 3. Thirty thousand fans filled the stadiums in both the New York Giants and Chicago American ball grounds, while 22,000, including President and Mrs. Harding, turned out at the Washington ball park. The Boston Americans played before 20,000 and the Philadelphia Quakers catered to 15,000.

Ken Williams, premier 1922 American league home run hitter and Babe Ruth's keenest rival contributed to the St. Louis team's victory over Detroit by poling out his third consecutive home run of the season. He is one ahead of Babe.

The outstanding feature at the Polo Grounds was the great ovation accorded Christy Mathewson, president of the Boston Braves. The peerless "Big Six" came back to the scene of his greatest playing triumphs which he left nearly three years ago. His charges were beaten by the world champion Giants, 7 to 3. Southpaw Bert Neale allowed only one hit, but a combination of errors and passes brought three tallies.

Although the Yankees tied the game in the first half of the ninth with a two run rally, the Boston Red Sox retaliated with a hit barrage and walked off with a 5 to 4 victory and snatched the New Yorkers to second place in the league standing.

Stanley Coveleskie's sterling pitching carried his team mates to a 3 to nothing victory over the Chicago White Sox and the Cleveland Indians again resumed the leadership in the league race.

Washington defeated the Athletics 2 to 1. Pittsburgh scored its second successive victory over the Chicago Cubs, 7 to 2.

After six straight losses Brooklyn came to life and fell upon the Philadelphia pitchers, trimming the Quakers, 14 to 4.

The St. Louis Cardinals defeated Cincinnati 8 to 4.

Well Who Cares? Johnny Kilbane, Cleveland, world featherweight champion, announces his retirement from the ring this year.

3,500 ATHLETES MATCH SKILL

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 27.—Probably the greatest gathering of college and school track athletes in the history of sport was here today for the Pennsylvania Relay Carnival. There were approximately 3,500 athletes from all parts of the country and some from England and Canada. Runners from Oxford University are entered in three events, two today and one tomorrow. Hamilton College

State Institute, the Canadian representative, will compete in three scholastic races.

Today's program comprised twenty-eight events, many of them for school boys of Philadelphia and vicinity. Others of outstanding interest were the quarter mile college relay, distance medley, one mile relay and the interscholastic relay.

Selection Of Clubs Vital To Novice

By MIKE BRADY

Wester Open Champion

To play golf it is, of course, necessary to have clubs. Anyone who thinks that in getting together a suitable set of clubs the only thing necessary is to go into a professional's shop or store and say, "I want a driver, a brassie, a midiron," etc., is harboring a delusion.

Clubs suited to one person may not be to another. Moreover, it isn't all a matter of size or strength.

I have seen six-footers, and over, playing with exceptionally short clubs, and short-statured chaps playing with extraordinarily long ones. The late Louis Toller used an extra long driver and got grand results with it.

The average beginner of approximately short stature would make a sorry mess of a club of the same length, for Toller had wonderful control of his swing. Take my advice and have a competent instructor advise you on the length, weight and style of club which he thinks suited to your physical makeup and your style of swing.

Chances are that he will be able to judge about what will serve you best, and as your game progresses you will doubtless experiment with other clubs and perhaps discover how you can improve on the original set.

But, above all things, don't discard clubs simply because you happen to get into a slump.

Lewis Will Take His Team To Ironton

Manager Otha Lewis and his squad of crack ball tossers will invade the land of the enemy for their first diamond engagement of the season, when they journey to Ironton next Sunday, where they will entertain the Naitlers for a spell in Beechwood park.

The combat is scheduled to start promptly at two bells and for a couple of hours or so the hostilities promise to be hot, as the old rivalry between the two teams is certain to be renewed and both sides will present their strongest front to annex the initial battle.

Several parties of local fans are planning to make the trip to Cannonville to observe the teams in action and to cheer our boys on to victory.

The strong Russell team will probably be the attraction in Millbrook park the following Sunday, May 5. Manager Lewis having selected the Kentucky outfit to assist in kicking off the local season.

Manager Lewis urges all members of his team to attend a meeting in Room 18, Krieger building, which has been called for 7:30 this evening when final arrangements for the Ironton trip will be made.

QUESTIONS

ONE—Is it possible to make a substitution for a base runner, and still have the original player remain in the game?

TWO—In case of rain or muddy field, who is the sole judge as to whether or not the game should be started?

THREE—In case a game is stopped by the umpire, because of rain, is there any time limit as to when the game can be resumed?

FOUR—What happens when the batter strikes at an illegally pitched ball?

FIVE—Is it necessary that the team at the bat make an appeal for the calling of a balk?

ANSWERS

ONE—Only by consent of the captain of the other team.

TWO—The manager or captain of the home team is the sole judge as to the fitness of the field for starting play.

THREE—The time limit formerly was 30 minutes. Now under the new ruling the umpire can wait as long as he sees fit.

FOUR—It counts for a strike or whatever may follow.

FIVE—A balk rests entirely with the judgment of the umpire. There is no necessity or reason for an appeal, although the team at bat often raises the claim.

PLAYING ON A VERY heavy course, a player on reaching the green finds that his ball is almost entirely covered with mud, making it utterly impossible for the player to putt with any degree of accuracy. Must the player play a ball in such condition or has he the right to lift the ball marking the spot, clean same, and then replace it without penalty?

While mud on the ball invariably renders it unfit for play, especially on the putting green, the rules do not recognize the fact. Unless some special ruling has been made, a player in stroke competition could be disqualified and in match play would lose the hole. When matches are played under heavy conditions, a special ruling is usually agreed upon, which gives the player the right to lift and clean the ball without penalty, which is only fair.

Players after using a new ball for two holes, and gets on the putting green of the third hole elects to change the ball in use and replace it with a new one. The ball in use looks to be in perfect condition. Has the player such a right?

The rules specifically state that a player may change a ball only when it is split into separate pieces or a bad crack renders it unfit for play. An opponent if he so desired would have a perfect right to object to using a new ball for one that was in perfect shape, other than having been used in playing two holes.

P. H. S. will be well represented in the annual tri-state track and field meet to be held at Ashland tomorrow afternoon starting at 1:30 o'clock. Athletic Director, F. B. McComb, and about ten athletes will leave here early Saturday for the Kentucky city. Huntington, Ironton, Ashland, Catlettsburg and Ceredo-Kenora are expected to participate in the various events.

Huntington is touted as the probable winner for that school will be represented by a team that made a good record last year. P. H. S. is counting on finishing second but will have to make a strong fight to land this honor. A silver loving cup goes to the winner of the meet and another to the winner of the relay race. P. H. S. has several speed artists this year who expect to do their best to bring the relay race trophy home. Ellerson, Scott, Farr and Thompson will run in the relay. P. H. S. is well stocked with runners and expect to make most of their points on the track. In the field events P. H. S. is not so strong.

Coach McComb had the locals at Picketon several days ago and they enjoyed a real workout on the track there. Next month P. H. S. will enter the South Central Ohio meet at Picketon, later the big meet at Athens. Athletes who place there are to go to the Big Six meet in Columbus.

The order of events is as follows: 100-yard dash; pole vault; 25 mile run; running broad jump; 230-yard dash; running high jump; discus throwing; 140-yard dash; 1 mile run; shot put; javelin throw and relay race.

Game At McDermott

Sunday afternoon, at two o'clock, on the McDermott diamond, the Otway Black Sox will oppose the McDermott nine in a nice lining affair. Brennan and Houston will be ready for the box, with Jenguenat or Clark behind the bat for McDermott.

Fire In Catlettsburg

CATLETTSBURG, KY., April 27.—Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed the Borders and Panin feed store in East Catlettsburg at 4 a. m. Thursday, including a large stock of feed.

A cottage nearby belonging to the William Lee estate was also burned. The loss is estimated at $3,200, partly covered by insurance.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY A. O. MONTGOMERY

NEW YORK, April 27.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: Blooming jonquils. Peggy Joyce's car. Canary yellow—and the chauffeur sits out in the rain. A college of logical psychology. Hot dogma! A group of Chinese in slip-slopping sandals. And they're going to church.

There's a yell! A negro musician carrying a pink bull holler. A fan shaped cloud. But everybody is too busy watching traffic to notice. Sign in a drug store: "Hooked Nugs." Sounds suspicious. A sand shop for children.

Wonder what's in the red and green bottles in a drug store window. There goes Artie Train, the novelist. Derelicts in utter pasteurism reclining on the Hippodrome fire escapes. The sizzle of frying steak. Why do cooks wear suspenders and cleave garters?

Jolly nymphs with the delectable smile. Floating toward the inevitable shoal. Summer tourists with maps and guide books. Summer rummage sales. Hatless young bloods hitting it up for the benches. Moonlight dances. Boardwalk strolls. I'm getting so I like to rock on the veranda.

All the bookshops are featuring Casanova. A wily old rogue. One should do one's rouging early. Do people really enjoy kippers hering? Houdini has grown white haired. Another block of buildings coming down. More jobs for Italians who wave little red flags.

Just think, they're brewing October beer in Munich! A dead horse in front of Tiffany's. That fellow with the pin-nez and stock looks scholarly. Probably juggles flap-jacks. Girls waiting at the curb for fat brokers to carry them home in limousines.

The mellow haze of evening. Old Madison Square seems like another world. Shopkeepers put out their sidewalk chairs. Lot of hold-ups down in this neighborhood. People may not like the footpads. But there's one thing; you gotta hand it to 'em.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM
MODERATION
By Berton Braley

SOME fellows plead for "just one" of your glances. Asking to play with you, once in a while. Others implore for occasional chances. When they may bask in the light of your smile. That's fair enough, they are modest in pleading. I'm a bit different, constantly I'm making it plain to you—just I succeed.

All that I'm asking is all of your time! "GIVE me a thought, now and then," say your wooers. "I can't expect such an awful lot more."

I don't resemble your other pursuers. "Think of me only," is what I implore. Think of me night-times and think of me day-times. All of my mind with your glamour is fraught; So in your quiet, your dull or your gay times, All that I'm asking is all of your thought.

OTHERS may plead for a share of affection. Asking for "only a bit of your heart. Though it be merely the tiniest section."

I want the whole of it, not just a part! All that I ask for is all of your leisure. All of your time and your love and—gee whiz, What I desire is beyond any measure. All that I ask is all that there is! (Copyright, 1923, NEA Service, Inc.)

"Success" is an ebony-hued son of Dabney. He is a professional tickler of ivories who is on "call" for the private apartment parties where his songs graduate from the naive to the raucous as the evening wears on. Since prohibition the demand for him is tremendous and, whereas he used to pound the piano until he had almost reached the fainting stage for $10 a night, he now charges $100 with the privilege of "passing the hat." Recently he accompanied a gay group of roysterers to Paris for three weeks and was paid $2,100 and all his expenses.

S. J. Kaufman, the peripatetic chronicler of the N. Y. Globe, is off on a tour around the world. He was given a farewell dinner by a group of his intimates and he confessed to them that his reason for the long journey was to avoid seeing three vaudeville sketches that he wrote and which are about to be produced. He never views a sketch after it passes the rehearsal stage.

"I would grow melancholy over the things I overlooked," he said.

It was my opinion the white marble-top table was a modern acquisition in the modern priced eating places. The scholarly cashier in a Sixth Avenue restaurant tells me the first cafe ever opened—it was in Paris in 1796—was equipped with the marble-top table. He also tells me that the most popular dish in the cheaper cafe is ham and baked beans. Since prohibition he has also noticed that the consumption of coffee has increased about 40 per cent.

IF AND PERHAPS

If everyone were wise and sweet, And everyone were jolly, If every heart with gladness beat, And none were melancholy, If none should grumble or complain, And nobody should labor In evil work, but each were fair To love and help his neighbor— Oh, what a happy world 't would be! For you and me—for you and me!

And if, perhaps, we both should try That glorious time to hurry; If you and I—just you and I—Kluder and sweeter-hearted— Perhaps in some near-by-and-by That good time might get started. Then what a happy world 't would be! For you and me—for you and me! —Emma C. Dowd.

Wanted to Know

"What are you reading, Charlie?" asked the lad's mother. "It's a book called 'Child Training' that I borrowed from Mrs. Jones," returned the young son. "Do you find it amusing?" asked his mother. "I'm not reading it for that. I merely wanted to see if I had been brought up properly."— Chronicle-Telegraph.

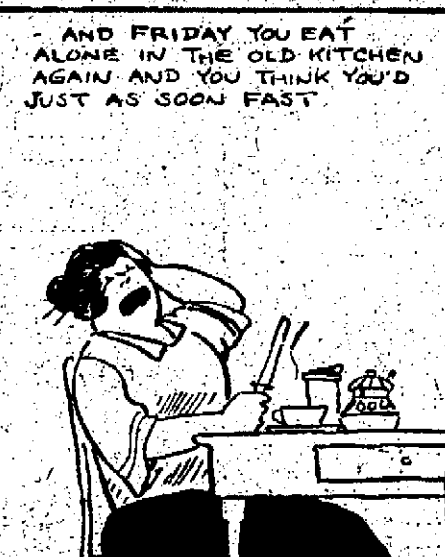

Keep It Dark

"Do you and your wife agree in regard to politics?" "No, we don't, but keep it to yourself, old top. I wouldn't have her know for anything."—Life.

BY STANLEY

THAT VIGOROUS PEN

LAWS that make a convict of a poor man and permit a rich man to go with a fine, will never be approved by me so long as I am governor of Ohio.

In these few, but entirely sufficient words, written down with his own hand, does Governor Donahey veto the Finebook bill derisively dubbed the "ball and chain act."

He was right when he made his veto message so brief. The few words of it ought to be framed in every place that has anything to do with making or the enforcement of the laws. For they are memorable in the great principle they lay down and unique in that they mark the first rebuff the Anti-Saloon league has received in its dictatorial bossing of the legislature.

How flagrantly it misused its dictatorship lies revealed in the veto itself, administered by a man who was "approved" by the league as a candidate.

It is fit too that minor objections to "the ball and chain measure" be not stated, but let it stand forth in its horrid nakedness of tyranny and injustice.

For what call was there to state that, not only in accusation for violating the antiprohibition laws, but in all misdemeanors it robbed of jury trial and committed the prejudiced victim to the tender mercies of some village tyrant, whose only horizon was a split of fees with a ribald and ruthless constable; that it meant he could send a woman to the penitentiary and a poverty-stricken wretch to the highway to work in chains, while the well-heeled criminal could pay his fine and blithely resume his violations?

With his veto of this measure Governor Donahey had smashed all records of executive disapproval, having put his prerogative upon near one-third of the acts of the assembly. With it his work was near done as the legislature reconvened Friday.

"Well done thou good and faithful servant."

ON THEIR OWN GROUNDS

AMERICAN automobile manufacturers, who so far have had a practical monopoly in their own country and a large portion of the earth to themselves are to learn what a foreign invasion means.

Andrew Vitreom, the Henry Ford of France, is here selecting a site for an immense plant, which he will locate either in Detroit or Cleveland, preferably it would seem, in the latter.

As for the market, he neither fears competition, nor the alleged fact that the country has reached the point of saturation in car supply. As he views it, though America operates about twelve million cars, replacement demands, even if no new owners appear, would call for at least two million new ones annually and the manufacturer who puts out the right sort of an automobile at the right price will find a sale for it.

He may be right, but we are just wondering if he takes account of the possibility of a general collapse. There are millions who own cars that can't afford to continue the use of such a luxury, as an automobile is to them and when these are forced to let go and turn myriads of old machines upon the market, what will happen then would seem to put a different phase upon the situation.

THE BUILDING BOOM

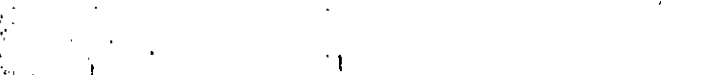

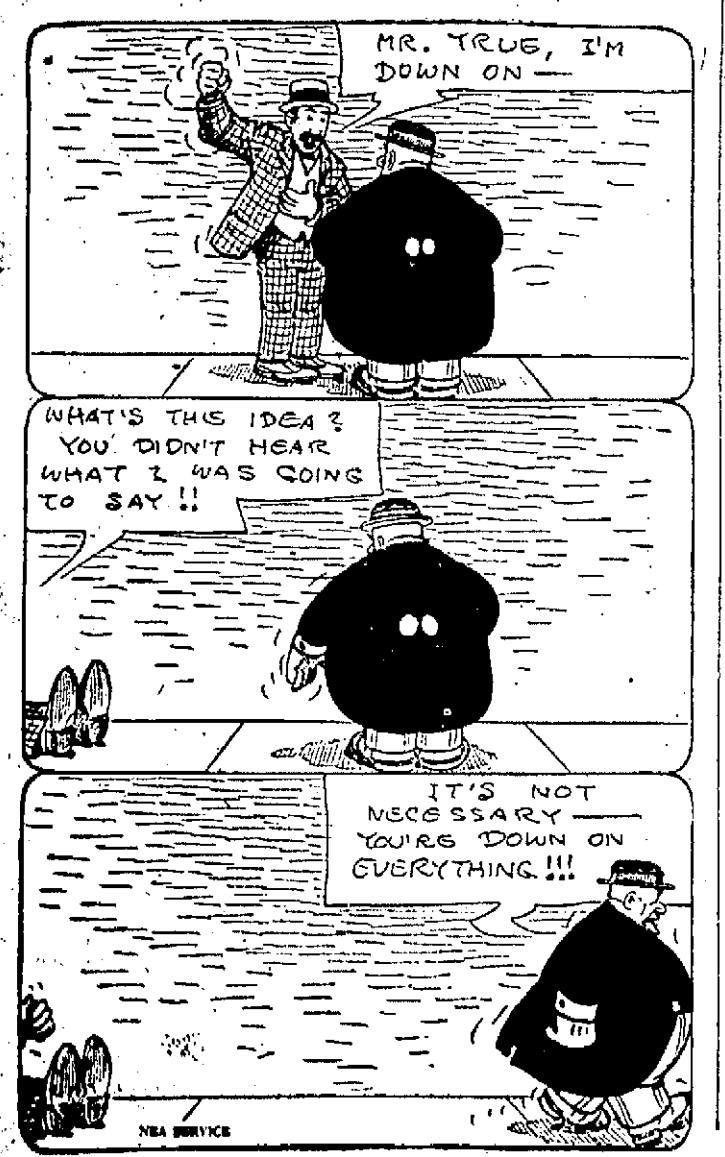

UNPRECEDENTED building is reported from all parts of the country. Apartments, homes, business structures are arising at a record-breaking rate. That is good news, indicative not only of better business conditions and increased confidence among citizens generally, but prophetic of ultimate balancing of supply and demand where homes and rents are concerned.

The suspension of home building during the war years imposed upon the average family two closely related problems. One was to find a home at a price that could be afforded. The other was to find a home at any price. For two or three years the congestion due to "doubling up" was serious. That congestion has now been relieved to a large extent, but the problem of high rents continues to harass many citizens. As more homes are built realty values will find their natural level. Whether that level be high or low, it will be stable, and stability is the chief basis of real prosperity.

A New Yorker aged 110 years says he cut out tobacco when he was 75, "boozed" when he reached 85. So there seems to be some reason for the remark that "he evidenced little interest in life in general."
